McCarter Plans to Expand In a Cooperative Project With Princeton University

Plans for a new theater, which will be built along the back of McCarter Theatre, were announced Monday. The project, which will be undertaken by McCarter Theatre in conjunction with Princeton University, will include not only a 350-seat proscenium theater, but also two rehearsal halls, offices, lobby, and production support areas.

The new facility will function as a second stage for McCarter as well as the principal performance space for Princeton University's Program in Theater and Dance.

McCarter and the University will be equal participants in the fund-raising effort. Early estimates place the cost of the new addition at $7.5-$8 million.

"McCarter has been in conversation with Princeton University for several years regarding the construction of a new theater," said Jeffrey Woodward, McCarter Theatre managing director. "I am happy to report that an agreement has been

Vote on Tree-Cutting Law Delayed

Action on a proposed Township ordinance limiting the rights of residents to cut trees on their own property has again been deferred. Originally expected on March 9, a vote had been postponed until April 6, following a challenge from Township resident Jan Buck.

Township Committee members meeting on April 6, postponed the vote until April 13, pending further revisions of the ordinance language.

Introduced on January 26, by unanimous vote of the Committee, the ordinance would prohibit residents from cutting more than eight trees over a two-year period, without a permit. Both the Shade Tree Commission and the Environmental Commission have endorsed the measure, for conservation and aesthetic reasons.

The original ordinance would require a permit to cut a majestic or "landmark tree," as defined by the Shade Tree Commission; permission would be necessary, as well, for the removal or destruction of any tree extending over a public right of way.

In order to cut 50 percent or more of mature trees (those having a diameter greater than six inches at a point one foot above the ground) during a one-year period, residents would have to obtain permission from the Township Engineering Department. The first eight trees, as noted, would be exempt.

Mr. Buck, through his attorney Richard S. Schkolnick, had protested that the definition of "landmark" was too vague. Township Attorney Edwin Schmierer, on April 6, introduced new descriptive language.

A landmark tree, according to the new language, is "a tree considered to be special by virtue of history, unusual size, or age, or of a rare species and so designated by the Shade Tree Commission."

Committeeman Steven Frekt pointed out that the definition was still too vague. "Even the revised ordinance leaves it up to the Shade Tree Commission to designate the trees," he said. "There may be trees that should be identified as landmark status, but never will be."

To the suggestion that property owners nominate their own trees for landmark consideration, Mr. Buck again protested.

Letting residents decide which trees merit landmark designation could "pit neighbor against neighbor," he cautioned.

Suppose a home owner wanted to add an extra room to the house to accommodate an elderly parent,

Proposed Weller Park Plan Eliminates Baseball Field

A new plan for Weller Park — one which eliminates the baseball field that had been strongly criticized by many of the park's neighbors — is scheduled to be discussed at the Thursday, April 16 meeting of the Regional Planning Board.

The revised plan differs from an earlier one, which provided for one soccer field, one baseball field (unlighted), and one multi-purpose field. Those opposing the inclusion of a baseball field said they had not been aware it would be part of the park, and asked to have it removed.

A report signed by six nearby residents, all members of a park advisory steering committee, asked that the proposed baseball use be completely eliminated from Weller Farm and relocated elsewhere. They urged that the area planned for baseball be developed into an additional soccer field instead.

In the plan to be discussed April 16, that is what is proposed. The design, created by Landscape Architect Consultant Dan Dobero-milsky, calls for four fields instead of the earlier three: two regulation soccer fields, one slightly smaller soccer field, and an all-purpose field that can be used for soccer or softball.

The earlier plan showed the complete development of the park within the boundaries of the former Weller Farm. The new design shows some use of the adjoining Van Dyke Wight property, which is owned by Princeton Township.

Does this mean the end of a new baseball field, the need for which has been testified to many times over by Princeton residents involved in youth baseball and by Recreation Department Director Jack Roberts?

"We are exploring several options for a new baseball field, including Community Park, where it appears there is room for a regulation baseball field without having to disrupt other fields," said Planning Board Chair Corinne Kyle.

She said there was some money for instance. Neighbors who didn't want the addition might be able to cry "landmark!" and stop construction, he said.

Another objection expressed by Mr. Buck concerned the permit application process. The original ordinance lists standards for the Township engineer to use in judging whether a tree should come down. They include drainage issues, soil conservation, and the possibility of future tree growth.

An additional standard of neighborhood appearance, he charged, was too subjective. Mr. Schmierer deleted that criterion in his new version of the ordinance.

He also announced that James J. Britt, Jr., an attorney with McCarthy & Schatzman, had forwarded a letter to him on behalf of the University trustees.

Pointing out that Princeton University has a "manager of grounds, three arborists, and 36 groundskeepers," and that last year, it planted twice as many trees as it took down, Mr. Britt wrote that the University was concerned that the ordinance was unclear.

Mr. Britt questioned when a permit was actually necessary. He also pointed out that "all accepted tree authorities use 4½ feet from the ground" as a measure, rather than one foot.

Because of all the questions about the ordinance, Mr. Schmierer recommended that the measure be revised and re-introduced at the next Committee meeting.

Objecting strenuously, Dolores Phillips, a member of the Regional Health Commission, pointed out that action deferred is often action never taken.

Air Quality Issues

She read a statement from the commission, endorsing the ordinance for health reasons, noting that there are "many environmental health benefits of trees in cleansing the air by removal of carbon dioxide and production of oxygen."

An environmental lobbyist by profession, she added that most people do not realize the role trees play in the improvement of air quality. "Each tree has an effect on the eco-system and on public health itself," she insisted.

She urged the Committee to enact the ordinance, if only in the interests of improving air quality.

Protesting once again, Mr. Buck pointed out that he would trust the "civility of residents in Princeton" more than an ordinance to protect the environment. "If you put in an air quality concern, you are heading for big trouble," he warned.

"It's all very well to talk about civility, but we have had a number of incidents," retorted Mr. Frakt.

Mayor Phyllis Marchand noted that, in any event, the Committee could take no immediate action. She directed Mr. Schmierer to rework the ordinance, clarifying the landmark tree designation, along with other issues raised at the meeting.

Bob Prunetti

Mercer County Executive To Speak at Nassau Club

Bob Prunetti, Mercer County Executive, will speak at a breakfast at 7:30 on Thursday, April 16 at the Nassau Club, 6 Mercer Street. The breakfast, which is under the sponsorship of the Republican Association of Princeton, is open to the public.

Mr. Prunetti, first elected county executive in 1992, is now serving his second four-year term. He previously served as a Mercer County freeholder, Mercer County budget director, director of policy and planning for the New Jersey Department of Human Services, and Hopewell Township administrator.

Among Mr. Prunetti's most visible accomplishments is the construction of Waterfront Park, which brought minor league baseball back to Trenton, and which anchors a much larger waterfront redevelopment project connecting a newly restored fishing wharf, a restaurant and night club, plus office and retail space to a planned recreation area extending from Trenton into Hamilton Township.

A modest charge of $12 for the breakfast is payable at the door. To make reservations for this breakfast call Jane Poole at 924-2271.

World Language Report Urges Teaching Of Spanish in Regional Grade Schools

The Princeton Regional School Board has endorsed a report calling for the introduction of Spanish language instruction in the district's second and fifth grades in 1998-1999.

A public forum to discuss the initiative — which has already generated some debate — will be held on April 16, at 7:30, at the Valley Road administration building.

Acting Assistant Superintendent Robert Ginsberg introduced the report at the school board meeting of March 24. Prepared by Martin Smith, the district's supervisor of world languages, the report is the final recommendation of a World Language Committee, composed of classroom teachers, language specialists, parents, and administrators. The group has been studying the development of an elementary foreign language curriculum since November.

TOPICS
Of the Town

Dr. Ginsberg pointed out that new state Core Curriculum Standards require that by the year 2000-01, fourth grade students be able to pass a foreign language test; the standards also mandate that today's fourth grade students be able to meet a world language high school graduation requirement.

According to the report, each student in a New Jersey public school must be able to "communicate at a basic literacy level (listening, speaking, reading, writing) in at least one language other than English."

The standards also require students to "demonstrate an understanding of the interrelationship between language and culture. . ."

The state recommends a language program from kindergarten through 12th grade, with testing to occur in grades four, eight, and 11.

There is no formal language study in the Regional Schools now until the sixth grade — and then it is optional, although this year, students at Johnson Park were part of a pilot Spanish-language instruction program. French and Spanish are both offered at the John Witherspoon Middle School.

No Requirement Now

In high school, French and Spanish are continued; German is offered for two years; and Italian and Latin may be studied for four years. There is, however, no language requirement for graduation from Princeton High School.

Several members of the public expressed dismay that Spanish was the only language under consideration. "Take advantage of the situation to offer more than one language," urged a concerned parent.

The decision to offer Spanish was based on the results of a questionnaire sent to every elementary school parent. Of the 500 who responded, 51 percent stated that Spanish would be their language preference, explained Dr. Ginsberg. French came in second, at 26 percent. Other languages in which some interest was expressed were Chinese, German, and Latin.

Man Pulled from Lake After Fall from Bridge

A Valley Road man, who told police that he lost his balance and fell off the Washington Road bridge on Wednesday evening, was rescued from Carnegie Lake by the Township Police and members of the Fire Department and First Aid and Rescue Squads.

According to reports, 62-year-old Rollan Dzhikiya told police that he was taking a walk on the bridge and smoking a cigarette when he looked over the concrete barrier, lost his balance, and fell into the water.

Mr. Dzhikiya held onto a bridge support and began calling for help. Police received two 911 calls from the Hibben-Magie apartments, and Lieutenant Robert Buchanan responded to the call. He dropped a rope to Mr. Dzhikiya, and had him hold on until rescue workers could launch a boat from the University boathouse to pick him up.

He was pulled from the water some time after 7:30 p.m., and told police that he believed he had been in the water for approximately 45 minutes.

Mr. Dzhikiya was transported to the Medical Center for evaluation, but suffered no major injuries.

Spanish Teaching

The committee has recommended that in 1998-99, two teachers be hired to start teaching Spanish in second and fifth grade; and that two language instructors be engaged at the Middle School, as well, so that all students there may study language.

If the recommendation is followed, next year Spanish will be added in grades one and three, as well, necessitating two additional teachers; and in 2000-01, two more language teachers will be hired, so kindergarten students and fourth grade children can start learning the language.

The report calls for 75 minutes of instruction per week in grades K-2; it recommends 150 minutes of instruction in grades 3-5.

Barbara Prince, a member of the committee, observed that introducing a language in grades two and five would entail the least adjustment in the Middle School curriculum.

Several members of the board and the public alike, however, questioned whether 75 minutes of language instruction weekly would make any difference at all.

"Seventy-five minutes weekly seems like zero to me," declared David Robbins. "Maybe zero would be better; it would cost less!"

15-Minute Periods

The report points out that 15-minute periods would provide the least amount of interruption to the elementary school schedule. "If the day is divided into 15-minute segments, an instructor can cover all classes in one building K-5 in a day," it notes.

In the early elementary grades, the report recommends that the focus be on listening and speaking; while in the higher grades, the amount of reading and writing should increase.

Jane Sheehan, president of the Special Education Parent Teachers Organization, said she hoped the board would be sensitive to the needs of special education students in language classes. She noted that for many with learning disabilities, even communicating in English can pose problems.

Whatever the final decisions on schedule and other issues, Steve Carson noted, it is imperative that the board take action immediately after the school election on April 21, in order for a program to be in place by fall.

Micawber Books to Expand Into Former Landau Store, More than Doubling Space

When Logan Fox moved Micawber Books to 110 Nassau Street from 108 back in the early 1990's he says, "The joke was that we were going to keep moving down the block until we were in Woolworth's."

Well, there's only one storefront left to go. In July, Micawber will move from its 2,000-square-foot space at 110 Nassau to the 5,000-square-foot space at 112 Nassau, formerly occupied by Landau's and right next door to the now-empty Woolworth's.

Mr. Fox and his partner, Margaret Knapp, are somehow managing to keep an independent bookstore not just alive, but vigorous in the face of mounting competition from book superstores, like Barnes & Noble, and Internet-based booksellers like Amazon.com.

"We are bucking the general trend," says Mr. Fox. "We are very lucky. By all rights, we shouldn't have survived our first year, let alone be starting our 18th."

Mr. Fox says that after a drop-off in business in 1991, when the first superstores began appearing on Route 1, Micawber began to see a gradual increase in business that continued to the point at which the store had outgrown its current home.

Shelf space is now so limited, Mr. Fox reports, that "we haven't been able to display two copies of anything for two years. We have huge quantities of books that we can't display properly."

The move to a larger space will allow Micawber to "improve the things we do well, and boost some sections that are now very small," Mr. Fox says. "We think we can grow into this space."

Micawber frequently hosts authors who give readings in the store, and the additional space will also include room for 40-to-50 seats, arranged so that readings will be able to take place without disrupting normal business.

Mr. Fox sees two main factors contributing to the store's growth in recent years. One of these, he believes, is that a small but significant number of people are beginning to make an effort to patronize independent, "main-street" type stores, rather than the large chains. "There are people now who, when they have a choice, support their main street, because they recognize that it may be a dying animal," he says.

"But the largest single factor is the Princeton reading public," he continues. "We established ourselves as a spot that ... represents what they like. People are recognized when they come in. We have a good relationship with the town, and I think the move is only going to improve that."

What about that final move down the block, into the massive Woolworth's space? Would that turn Micawber into a superstore, along the lines of Barnes & Noble?

"We'll never be a Barnes & Noble," Mr. Fox says with the edge of seriousness in his voice. "We would just be a large independent."

Princeton Fire Dept. To Hold Egg Hunt

The Princeton Fire Department will sponsor its first-ever Easter Egg Hunt on Saturday at 10 a.m. in Grover Park, behind the Princeton Shopping Center.

All children up to 10 years of age are invited to attend, and all will receive prizes. Special prizes will be awarded for particular eggs.

The rain date is April 18, at the same time and place.

French Market Reopens At Mercer Island Park

The French Market reopened on April 3, at Mercer Island Park (intersection of Nassau and Mercer Streets). On April 10, it will feature decorated Easter baskets, priced very reasonably.

A project of the Garden Club of Princeton, the market will be open every Friday morning, from 8:30 to 11:30, through June 5. Parking for customers is free, provided flowered hats are on the meters.

This Friday, flowers from members' gardens will be on sale. Included will be lilies of the valley, daffodils, iris, roses, lilacs, flowering branches, small arrangements, herb-planted strawberry jars, some perennials, blooming flower bulbs, and fresh eggs.

Bloomsavers, a device for carrying cut flowers, will also be on sale, along with unusual plant containers and other useful garden items.

The Garden Club refurbished Mercer Island Park last year, with help from the Borough. Club members are supervising the spring plantings of the park and have designed colorful banners to be flown when the French Market is open.

Proceeds from sales this spring will go to civic projects that benefit the greater Princeton community.

NY Times Editor to Speak On Coverage of Politics

Patricia L. Cohen, ideas editor for the New York Times, will give a lecture entitled "What's Wrong with the Way Newspapers Cover Politics? Bill and Monica: A Case Study" at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs on Monday, April 13, at 4:30 in Robertson Hall, Bowl 1.

A 1986 graduate of the Woodrow Wilson School's Master's in Public Affairs program, Ms. Cohen joined the staff of the Times in August 1997. As the ideas editor, she created and launched the new weekly Arts & Ideas section, which focuses on intellectual life and ideas.

Previously, she was the political editor and features editor for the Style section of The Washington Post, and earlier was senior features editor at Rolling Stone. As the political editor for New York Newsday, she covered the federal courts for her columns. She also served on the editorial board of Newsday.

Ms. Cohen's lecture is sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

Township Home Damaged By General Alarm Fire

A cigarette left burning in a Castle Howard Court home on Monday resulted in a general alarm fire that damaged the kitchen of the home before it was extinguished.

Police and firefighters responded to reports of a heavy smoke condition in the house at 11:56 a.m., and arrived to find the house unoccupied. They forced their way in and extinguished the fire, which had been largely confined to the kitchen counter.

No injuries were reported in connection with the blaze.

Traffic Stop in Borough Leads to Drug Arrest

A 3 a.m. traffic stop on Nassau Street Thursday morning led to the arrest of two North Carolina residents for possession of drugs. According to police reports, after being pulled over for an unspecified violation, Charles Melleno, 22, and Eleanor Duncan, 20, were found to be in possession of a small amount of marijuana as well as the hallucinogenic psilocybin mushroom.

Both were charged with two counts of possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and were released with a summons.

An Alexander Street man was charged with driving while intoxicated at approximately 2:29 on Friday afternoon, police said.

According to reports, Gerald L. Geison, of 20 Alexander Street, was parking his car on Nassau Street when he struck a second parked car. He got out of his vehicle and began to walk away, but the owner of the second vehicle ran after him. Mr. Geison stopped, gave the woman his name and address, then got back in his car and drove home.

Police located him there a short time later, and when he refused to take a breathalyzer test, he was placed under arrest. Mr. Geison was charged with careless driving, driving while intoxicated, and refusal to take a breath test. He was released on his own recognizance, pending a court appearance.

Borough Police officers arrested José Sisnero, 46, of 216 Witherspoon Street on April 31. Mr. Sisnero was wanted on an outstanding contempt of court warrant from Princeton Township municipal court.

He was unable to post $1,000 bail and was handed over to the Township Police.

Javier Chavis, 32, of Columbus Avenue in Trenton was arrested and charged with hindering his own apprehension on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Chavis was pulled over by police for an unspecified violation, and was unable to produce a driver's license. He provided the officers with false information when asked to identify himself.

He was later released on his own recognizance, pending a court appearance.

A woman arrested on a disorderly persons charge on Wednesday was subsequently handed over to police in Trenton, who held warrants for her arrest.

Celestine Sutphin, 45, was arrested on Palmer Square at 7:01 p.m., after becoming disruptive.

Thefts Reported

An employee working in a 20 Nassau Street office reported that her wallet was removed from her purse at some point between 1 p.m. and 1:30 p.m. on March 30. The victim was out of the office at the time.

She reported that the wallet contained $30 in cash plus credit cards and personal items.

Workers at a construction site on Magnolia Lane reported the theft of a ladder hoist valued at $1,900.

The victims reported that the hoist disappeared between 5:30 p.m. on March 31 and 7:30 a.m. the next morning.

A 31-year-old Princeton man reported that a $219 weed-whacker was stolen from the bed of his pickup truck sometime between 2:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. on April 6.

The truck was parked on Witherspoon Street at the time of the theft.

An unknown person shattered a window on a 1997 Nissan parked in the commuter lot behind the Wawa and stole a $165 car stereo. The theft occurred between 7 p.m. on March 30 and 12:30 a.m. on April 1.

A woman who left a knapsack hanging on the back of a chair in a Nassau Street restaurant on March 31 reported that her wallet was removed from it. The stolen wallet contained credit cards, a driver's license, and $60 in cash.

The theft occurred between 5:30 p.m. and 6:20 p.m.

A woman who left her purse hanging on a door at her place of work at 235 Witherspoon Street, reported that her wallet was stolen.

The wallet contained cash and credit cards valued at $105. The theft occurred between 1:20 p.m. and 2:10 p.m. Wednesday.

A 15-year-old boy from Princeton Township was arrested Friday afternoon, after employees of a Nassau Street music store saw him attempt to shoplift a compact disc.

The boy was charged with juvenile delinquency and released to a parent.

Two 17-year-old Township boys were taken into custody on April 2, after they attempted to purchase alcohol using false identification.

Police charged the two with juvenile delinquency and released them to their parents.

Paul Watkins

Author Paul Watkins To Speak at Peddie

As part of its Distinguished Lecturer Series at The Peddie School, author Paul Watkins will read from his work on Friday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the William Mount-Burke Theatre of The Peddie School, South Main Street, Hightstown. Admission is free. The reading will last approximately one half hour.

Paul Watkins is writer-in-residence at Peddie. His most recent novel The Story of My Disappearance, was published in Britain in September, 1997, and will soon be released in the United States. Mr. Watkins has written several novels including The Promise of Light, Night Over Day Over Night, Stand Before Your God, and Archangel, which was named the Best Novel of 1996 by the Royal Society of Literature.

His novel, In the Blue Light of African Dreams, is currently being developed into a motion picture by Tom Cruise/Paramount. His novel Calm at Sunset, Calm at Dawn was televised by CBS Hallmark Hall of Fame in December 1996, starring Michael Moriarty and Kate Nelligan.

Educated at the Dragon School, Eton and Yale, Mr. Watkins is the recipient of the Encore Award for best second novel of the year and was nominated for the Booker Prize in 1992.

Parenting Class Due To Begin on April 21

Redirecting Children's Behavior, a five-week, 15-hour parenting class, will be offered at Westminster Choir College. The course teaches parents how to discipline children in a way that increases self-esteem and minimizes power struggles, tantrums and tears.

The class will be held Tuesday evenings starting April 21 and will continue April 28, May 5, 12 and 19 from 7 to 10. For information call 497-7672.

The instructor, Jill Kaufman of Princeton, is a certified parenting educator with the International Network for Children and Families. Ms. Kaufman is the co-chairman of the Princeton Alcohol and Drug Alliance, founding member of FEMALE (a support and advocacy group for mothers) and is on the Speakers Bureau for Parents' Anonymous.

"Summits at the Brink" Is Topic of P.U. Lecture

Charles Sorrels, a foreign affairs analyst at the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, will give a lecture entitled "Summits at the Brink: Khrushchev's Ultimatum on Berlin and Eisenhower at Camp David (1959) and Kennedy at Vienna (1961)" at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs on Wednesday, April 8, in Robertson Hall, Bowl 6, at 4:30 p.m.

Mr. Sorrels joined the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency in 1982. At the agency, he has been responsible for a number of vital studies, including one on the arms-control implications of NATO expansion and another on the Soviet propaganda campaign against NATO's decision in December 1977 to respond to the buildup of SS-20 missiles threatening Western Europe.

He also prepared memoranda for the President on arms control and summits from 1955 to 1979 and was responsible for drafting sections on SALT I, SALT II, and INF for a project on negotiating history.

An Earth Day Ramble Is Set at Watershed

Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, located on Titus Mill Road in Hopewell Township, is offering an exploratory celebration of Earth Day at 10 a.m. on Saturday, April 18. A family walk (children must be 6 years and older) on the Reserve offers a taste of spring with a walk through field and forest to the pond. This program is co-sponsored by the Washington Crossing Audubon Society.

Meet at the Buttinger Center near the Headquarters building. Although there is no fee, pre-registration is required. For more information or to register call the Education Office at 737-7592.

'Mystery of the Maya' By Local Film Makers To Be Re-Broadcast

In April 1973, 25 years ago, an expedition headed by three Princetonians — film makers Hugh and Suzanne Johnston and art historian Gillett G. Griffin — plunged into the dense jungle of southeastern Yucatan in search of a lost Mayan temple. Their rediscovery a few weeks later of a magnificent limestone structure built by Mayan Indians about 800 A.D. and last seen by archaeologists in 1912 became the centerpiece of an acclaimed PBS special they produced for WNET/13, Mystery of the Maya.

An updated edition of the hour-long documentary — praised by the Journal American Anthropologist as, "One of the two best archeological films ever made" — will be rebroadcast on Thursday, April 9, at 9 p.m., on Princeton's public access cable channel, TV A-30. It is part of a series of documentaries by Princeton film makers that the Johnstons present on TV-30 every Thursday night under the title "Princeton Projects."

Mystery of the Mayo, Narrated by Ricardo Montalban, originally aired in 1974, about a year after the expedition's discovery. A New York Times critic wrote at the time, "Superbly, with an easy, earthy bluntness and no entertainment frills, the program studies remnants of the ancient civilization in Mexico and Central America, linking these to present-day Mayan life and to American museum homework and continual archeological digging on the spot."

The temple, a classic example of what is called the Rio Bec style of Mayan architecture, was first discovered in 1912 by a team from Harvard's Peabody Museum. Because of contradictory directions on the maps and field notes from that expedition, plus the forbidding terrain, no one had been able to locate it again.

The Johnstons visited the Peabody Museum and studied the original records. Clues they uncovered there, plus the skills of their jungle guides, made possible their remarkable find.

RESTORING A STREAM: Princeton neighbors and Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association staff members spent more than four hours this past Saturday restoring a 70-foot length of the Guyot Stream Walk in the Township. If all goes according to plan, by next month the stretch of shore line along the stream should be protected with a cover of new growth.

DOT to Cut Trees At Route 27 Accident Location

The state Department of Transportation (DOT) has advised the Township Engineering Department that it plans to remove two trees creating a hazard at the Route 27 site of three serious one-car accidents within the last seven years. Two of the accidents were fatal.

The Township Committee had sought other alternatives to the destruction of the trees, which are located within the shoulder area of the state roadway. The site is on the Carnegie Lake side of the road, between Dodds Lane and Shady Brook Lane.

The trees to be removed are a linden that is 24" in diameter and an English elm tree, 43" in diameter. The removal will probably occur this week or next, according to Township Engineer Robert Kiser.

In a letter to Mr. Kiser from Timothy Szwedo, DOT manager of traffic signal and safety engineering, the state official agreed to plant four similar trees, two to three inches in diameter, at a location to be determined by the Township.

The DOT does not generally replace trees removed from a right-of-way. "Our only criteria for the location," Mr. Szwedo wrote, "is that the trees cannot be planted within the clear zone of any roadway."

The Township has requested the Shade Tree Commission to recommend locations for the four new trees.

Four Candidates Announce Bids For Council Seats

Kate Warren and Thomas Parker have announced they will file as Republican candidates for the two Borough Council seats currently held by Democrats Roger Martindell and Sandra Starr. The two Democratic incumbents have also announced they will seek new terms.

Filing deadline is Thursday, April 9, at 4 p.m.

Ms. Warren and Mr. Parker were unsuccessful in their bids for Council seats last November, when Democrats Mark Freda and William Slover were elected. Heavily Democratic Princeton Borough has elected very few Republicans in the past decade. Council currently is made up of six Democrats, with a Democratic Mayor, Marvin Reed.

A Borough resident for 28 years, Ms. Warren is active in Republican politics and is State Commissioner for the Borough Housing Authority. She also served as Borough Rental Board Landlord Representative from 1993 to 1998. But she is probably best known as chair of "Preserve Our Historic Borough," a group which successfully fought consolidation of Borough and Township.

Kate Warren

Thomas Parker

Mr. Parker serves as chair of the Joint Civil Rights Commission and is active in youth sports. He is president of the Service Employees International Union, Local 175, and has been active in the labor movement for more than 20 years.

Ms. Starr, an epidemiologist, served on the Regional Health Commission for five years. She is now Council's liaison to the Planning Board, and is seeking her second term on Council.

Mr. Martindell, an attorney in Princeton, is running for his fourth three-year term on Council. During his 12 years in Borough government, he has served on a number of Council committees, with particular involvement in the Finance Committee.

Mr. Martindell said he is running again because he enjoys the job and feels he can make a contribution to the town. In addition, he said he wants to complete "unfinished business" on Council. "This includes dealing with financial problems and with the Borough's shrinking tax base."

Ms. Starr agreed with Mr. Martindell that more had to be done on specific issues. She focused on the need for additional recreational fields, the delivery of social services, issues relating to the explosive growth around Princeton, and efforts now under way that will lead to the completion of Palmer Square North.

Ms. Warren said she plans to focus her campaign on those issues that formed the basis of her candidacy last year. She identified these as "micromanagement, reactionary response rather than proactive policy setting, blatant disregard of task force and committee recommendations, and indiscriminate spending."

Mr. Parker said he was running, as he had before, because he feels Princeton is in a growth stage, and that the growth is not equally distributed among the residents. He is also interested in senior issues, housing, and exerting more control of government spending.

Republicans Choose Bedford & Vonvorys For Township Contest

Two Republicans will be running for seats on the all-Democratic Township Committee in the fall. They are Colin Vonvorys, Mount Lucas Road, and Dorothy Bedford, Prospect Avenue.

They will be competing for the seats of incumbents Roz Denard and Phyllis Marchand, both of whom have declared their intention to run for re-election. The filing deadline for the primary election on June 2, is April 9.

Mr. Vonvorys, familiar to Township voters from two previous unsuccessful runs for Township Committee (1996 and 1997), is a member of the joint civil rights commission. Democrat Leonard Godfrey won the November 1997 election by a margin of 487 votes.

Ms. Bedford, new to municipal politics, was executive director of Princeton University's 250th anniversary, an 18-month-long celebration that included lectures, conferences, recitals, picnics, fireworks, and a commencement address by President Bill Clinton.

Dorothy Bedford

She is a 1978 graduate of the University with a bachelor's degree in international affairs from the Woodrow Wilson School. In 1982, she received an M.B.A. degree from Harvard University.

From 1982 to 1992, Ms. Bedford pursued a career in banking, starting as an assistant treasurer with Chemical Bank and becoming a vice president of Bankers Trust, where she was a manager of Global Merchant Banking, with special emphasis on the bank's Latin American portfolio. She left to assume her duties for the University's 250th anniversary.

Ms. Bedford is active in the Riverside School PTO; she is a co-leader of Brownie Girl Scout Troop 664, and is a member of the Session at the Nassau Presbyterian Church. She received the YMCA Twin Award in 1997.

Mr. Vonvorys is regional sales manager for Longview Solutions, a computer products firm in Malvern, Pa. He was previously a product specialist with Computer Associates, Skillman. He has also worked as an editor and product marketing specialist with Applied Data Research here.

A 1983 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, Mr. Vonvorys holds a bachelor's degree from the Annenberg School of Communications. He is pursuing advanced courses in COBAL programming, data processing, marketing, and public relations.

"We are very fortunate to have two such fine candidates running for Township Committee," said former Mayor Richard Woodbridge, a member of the Princeton Republican Organization selection committee. "They are both highly qualified with impressive educational and professional backgrounds and are the calibre of people we need to lead us into the next century."

Colin Vonvorys

Medical Center Pioneers Breakthrough Surgery

A breakthrough surgery to treat degenerative disk disease was performed on April 5 at the Medical Center of Princeton. Orthopedic spine surgeon John D. Tydings, M.D. and vascular surgeon Kenneth Goldman, M.D., performed the operation, which was the first of its kind to be done in Mercer County.

Just 18 hours after the surgery was completed, patient Christine Bennett-Charcalla was walking around her hospital room declaring the procedure "amazing — the closest thing I know to a miracle."

Ms. Bennett-Charcalla had suffered with intense lower back pain since 1995, when she was involved in an automobile accident. "Her back pain was so severe that she required strong pain killers on a regular basis, in spite of multiple treatments," Dr. Tydings said.

By the beginning of 1998, at just 31 years of age, she had become so debilitated by her pain that she could no longer brush her teeth or wash dishes. "I was basically getting through the day on pain pills," Ms. Bennett-Charcalla admits, "and I certainly wasn't happy with that kind of life."

When Dr. Tydings suggested surgery, she was ready to try anything, even a newly-approved procedure like laparoscopic lumbar spinal fusion with cages.

The surgery solves the problem that occurs when the disks between the vertebrae of the spine become injured or degenerate. Healthy, normal disks typically act as "cushions" or shock absorbers between the vertebrae. When they do not perform this task properly, the result can be severe, unrelenting pain in the back and legs.

The procedure performed at the Medical Center involves placing small "cages" packed with the patient's own bone between the vertebrae in order to return the spine to its normal height.

The idea behind the surgery is not new, but the methods are: The procedure was done anteriorally (through the abdomen instead of through the back) and laparoscopally (using tiny cameras to guide surgeons in their work through several tiny incisions). The result was a more precise surgery and a shorter, less painful recovery period.

Ms. Bennett-Charcalla was discharged less than 24 hours after the three-hour operation; and as she packed her belongings, she marveled at the tremendous strides made in the medical field. "I can't believe I just had surgery yesterday," she said, "because I feel better than I have in months. Now I'm going to go home and start my 'new' life — without back pain."

Tibetan Monks to Appear At Communiversity Event

Five Tibetan Buddhist monks from the Drepung Loseling Monastery will construct a sand painting (mandala) and hold healing rites in Princeton on April 25 as part of their Mystical Arts of Tibet tour.

The monks will construct a sacred sand mandala at Chancellor Green (Princeton University Student Center, from noon to 4 free admission) as part of the Communiversity festival on Nassau Street.

That same evening, the healing rite will be held at Nassau Presbyterian Church, 61 Nassau Street from 7:30 to 9; admission is $10; $5 for students with ID. Proceeds benefit the Drepung Loseling Educational Fund.

The healing rite is known as "purifying the Environment and Its Inhabitants." The monks will hold up a mirror and draw into it the reflection of the world and its living beings. Next, they purify the environment and its people by pouring blessed waters from a sacred "wisdom vase." Featured in the ceremony is "multiphonic singing," wherein an individual simultaneously intones three musical notes.

Drepung Loseling Monastery founded in 1416, and was Tibet's largest and most prestigious religious institution, housing nearly 15,000 at its peak, many from as far away as Siberia. The monks were trained in spiritual and philosophical traditions, and in sacred performing arts. Drepung Loseling was particularly renowned for producing masters of multiphonic singing.

The original 540-year old complex was shelled by the Chinese Communist army in 1959 resulting in the deaths of thousands of monks. Most of the survivors were put in concentration camps. Approximately 216 of its members escaped to India, where they re-established the monastery in the refugee camps of Karnataka State, India. It is now home to some 2,500 monks.

Sponsored by actor Richard Gere and Tibet House in New York, eight monks from Drepung embarked on the first Mystical Arts tour in 1989. The Mystical Arts tours have three purposes: to contribute to world healing; to raise awareness of endangered Tibetan culture; and to raise funds for the refugee community in India.

Community Is Asked To Nominate Seniors

The ElderLife Council — a network of agencies and organizations serving Princeton area senior citizens — is now accepting nominations for the second annual celebration honoring Princeton's most senior contributors to our community.

"80-Plus and Still Contributing to Princeton" is an honor bestowed on a limited number of individuals, 80 years old or more, who not only have given of themselves in many ways to our community over the years, but who are still doing so actively.

"There are remarkable people in our town whose energy belies their years and whose enthusiasm for doing things with and for others is inspiring. We want to acknowledge some of these wonderful people each year," said Rhona Porter, chairwoman of the ElderLife Council' which is organizing the event again this spring.

Honorees will attend a special public reception at Township Hall on Thursday, May 28, when the Borough and Township mayors and others will pay tribute to them.

Individuals or organizations wishing to nominate someone should do so by Friday, April 24. Nomination forms are available at the Princeton Public Library, the Princeton YWCA, and the Senior Resource Center at Spruce Circle. For more information, call Rhona Porter at Elm Court, 921-0929.

Book Signing Scheduled At the University Store

Princeton resident Barbara Westergaard will appear at the Princeton University Store on Monday, April 13, at 7 p.m. to sign copies of her book, New Jersey: A Guide to the State.

In this second edition, the author has updated her easy-to-use guide to the Garden State. Arranged alphabetically by town and city name, entries describe what there is to do and see in a community and its surrounding area, and how each place is connected to its past.

The book lists museums, parks, historical points of interest, natural and recreational areas, and many other attractions.

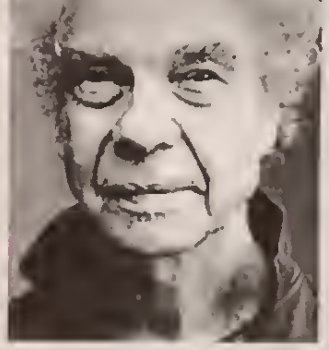
Famed Choreographer Merce Cunningham To Speak at Princeton

Choreographer Merce Cunningham will be the 1997-1998 Belknap Visitor in the Humanities, hosted by the Princeton University Humanities Council. On Wednesday April 15 at 5 p.m. in McCosh 10, he will show a brief film retrospective and then talk about his life and art.

Beginning his career in 1939 with the Martha Graham company, Merce Cunningham went on to found his own company in 1953, based on his distinctive approach to dancing and choreography. He championed the right of dance to be its own subject matter, without having to tell a story.

Like abstract paintings, his dances do not rely on a linear narrative, but assume that an element (a movement, a sound, a change of light) is expressive in its own right. In the words of his long-time collaborator, the late composer John Cage, "What it communicates is in large part determined by the observer himself."

Mr. Cunningham conceives his dances in equal partnership with music. Together Cage and Cunningham influenced not only dance and music but painting, theater and film. Mr. Cunningham has collaborated with some of the most distinguished artists of our time, including Robert Rauschenberg, Jasper Johns, Marcel Duchamp, Frank Stella, and Andy Warhol.



Merce Cunningham

In recent years he has explored a new area of creation and collaboration, involving choreography for the camera, which has led to innovative video and film dances

As a Belknap Visitor in the Humanities, Merce Cunningham joins a distinguished tradition of eminent writers and artists, including Robertson Davies, Eudora Welty, Nadine Gordimer, Isaac Bashevis Singer, Roy Lichtenstein, Arthur Miller, Peter Sellars, and Frank Stella, who have come to Princeton through a program created in memory of Chauncey Belknap of the Class of 1912.

"Lunch With a Bite" Offered at the YWCA

The Princeton YWCA "Lunch With a Bite" series will continue on Friday, April 17, with a talk on "America in the Forties" by Thomas Spain, Emmy-award-winning documentary film maker.

The talk will take place from noon to 1:30 in the Library of the YWCA.

On Friday, May 29, from noon to 1:30, Judith Applegate will speak on "Hunting and Gathering: Summer Antiquing." Ms. Applegate is an art historian, appraiser and art advisor.

Her talk will be given in the Bramwell Living Room at the YW.

Participants should bring their own brown-bag lunch. Beverages and homemade dessert will be provided.

Fee is $6 for YWCA members and $8 for nonmembers. Pre-registration is advised. To register, call 497-2100.

Wagon Tours Planned At Howell History Farm

Wagon tours of Howell Living History Farm's spring plowing operations will be offered free to the public on Saturday, April 18.

Rides will leave from the farmyard continuously from 10:30 until 3:30, taking visitors to fields where farmers will be plowing with horses and circa 1900 equipment. Rides will last approximately 20 minutes and are given on a first come, first served basis. Tours will be narrated.

A craft program for children, "Planter" will be offered in the farmhouse from 11 to 3. Crafts take about 20 minutes to complete; cost is $3 per craft. Groups must preregister for craft programs one month in advance.

Howell Farm is located in Hopewell Township, on Valley Road, just off Route 29 two miles south of Lambertville. Visiting hours are 10 to 4 Tuesday through Saturday and noon to 4 p.m. Sundays. Parking and admission are free.

Persons wanting to receive a calendar of Saturday events should leave name and address on the Farm's message unit, 737-3299.

Post-Apartheid Era Is Topic at Seminary

Dr. Russel Botman, a professor of theology at the University of the Western Cape in South Africa, will speak at Princeton Theological Seminary on Tuesday, April 14, at 10:40 a.m. in Stuart Hall, room 6. His topic is "Theology Before and After Apartheid: Paradigms and Progress in South Africa."

Dr. Botman is currently the moderator of the South African Alliance of Reformed Churches, a branch of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches. He is also a key member of the Policy Think Tank on Reparation and Reconciliation, a subcommittee of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission in South Africa. He is a resident scholar at Princeton's Center of Theological Inquiry this spring. Mr. Botman's lecture at the Seminary is open to the public free of charge.

Borough Candidates for Regional School Board Both Seek Resolution of District Turmoil

Princeton residents will go to the polls on April 21 to vote for school board candidates to fill one Borough vacancy and two Township vacancies. A profile of Borough condidates follows. Township candidates will be interviewed for the TOWN TOPICS issue of April 15.

The two Borough candidates vying for a single seat on the Princeton Regional School Board — Walter Frank, 52, and Pierina Thayer, 46, — have very different campaign styles, but a shared concern that the board establish educational guidelines for a district in turmoil. Ms. Thayer, in fact, goes so far as to call the present board "dysfunctional."

Pierina Thayer

The candidates are more than theoretically concerned. Ms. Thayer has a daughter, Genevieve, at Princeton High School; while Mr. Frank's daughter, Rebecca, is a sophomore there.

Ms. Thayer's son Aaron is a PHS graduate, currently in his last semester at SUNY (State University of New York) in Albany; David Frank, also a PHS graduate, now attends Rutgers University.

Mr. Frank says he has found district education "generally satisfactory," which is one of the reasons he is running for the school board now.

"It is a good time for someone like myself, who looks for common ground, to run for the board," he says. An attorney with the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, Mr. Frank believes that by both training and temperament, he is in a position to help settle disputes.

Ms. Thayer also points to her experience as a social worker and a social services consultant as a plus. "I feel that I can lend support and work with others on the board," declares the former executive director of the Trenton Area Soup Kitchen.

"The biggest underlying problem on the board is not its diversity," Ms. Thayer continues, "but that its members attempt to lead by consensus. You cannot lead by consensus. Board members should leave the leadership to the person hired for that job, not function to undermine administrators and teachers."

"The board must develop a vision and set an agenda for the district," Mr. Frank agrees, "but it should not try to run the district."

He also points out that in order to work effectively in a group, one must keep in mind "the possibility of one's own fallibility." It is always easier to accentuate differences than to seek areas of agreement, he points out.

Both candidates feel that the choice of a new superintendent is critically important. "The buyout of Marcia Bossart has left the district in great jeopardy," Ms. Thayer says. "All of us are yearning for leadership."

[The Board of Education negotiated a 17-month paid leave of absence with Superintendent Marcia Bossart, effective February 1. Her resignation, effective June 30, 1999, the last day of her contract, was also part of the settlement. The district's business administrator, Dan Swirsky, has been acting as superintendent pending the appointment of a permanent replacement for Dr. Bossart.]

The candidates stress the importance of involving parents and other community residents in the search for a new superintendent, as well as administrators and teachers. "Before the search can be successful, we have to have a functioning board," insists Ms. Thayer, "which can develop guidelines and goals."

"We should not be looking for a superintendent with a fixed point of view," says Mr. Frank. "What we need is someone who can retain the respect of the community, even when personalities on the board change; someone who can communicate with everyone."

Bloated District Budget

An aggressive attack on the excess in what she terms a "bloated" $34.8 million budget has marked Ms. Thayer's campaign.

"Serious fiscal problems are a symptom of problems with program," she says, pointing out that the budget has doubled during the last ten years, while enrollment has remained fairly stable.

Board Candidates

[The budget will increase by $3.1 million between 1997-98 and 1998-99; enrollment projections call for an increase of 66 students in 1998-99. Statistics include Charter School students.]

Ms. Thayer has zeroed in on apparent accounting discrepancies, noting, for example, that in one simplified budget document, distributed to the public, the salary increase is listed as $600,000. A detailed line-by-line examination shows a salary increase of $1.5 million, she declares. She also alleges discrepancies in capital outlay figures.

In addition to a flawed budget document, Ms. Thayer points out that program issues should be "driving the budget," but that the district has not even assessed its programs.

Program Failure

A glaring example of program failure is the high percentage of minority students in special education classes, she points out, as well as an alarming 15 percent of PHS graduates who neither enter continuing education programs nor attend college.

"Tutoring is a huge cottage industry in this community," she notes. "How does that fact define the level of teaching; and where does it put children whose parents cannot afford a tutor?"

Walter Frank

"Any child whose parents do not have an interest in his or her education is a disadvantaged child," declares Mr. Frank. "It is, of course, easier for well-to-do parents to throw money at their children's education."

Objective testing must be part of the program picture, Mr. Frank maintains. "Test-taking may be harder for some children than others," he admits, "but it doesn't help not to expect the best. We are not doing anyone a service by not preparing them to excel."

In order to insure that all children perform well no matter what their background, he says, the system must focus on imparting basic skills to children at every level. He believes that a student database, which the administration has pledged to develop, is a necessary first step in program assessment.

Both candidates decry the effect that the budget increase with its concurrent property tax hikes will have on residents, like senior citizens, who live on reduced incomes.

"Increasing financial pressures are threatening the district's ability to maintain quality," Mr. Frank says. "The budget is certainly not a perfect document, with its strong emphasis on the non-instructional aspects of education."

While he believes program issues must be thoroughly scrutinized, Mr. Frank says, he also feels both art and athletics must be maintained as integral parts of the curriculum.

Charter School Alternative

Each candidate has a take on the Princeton Charter School. Ms. Thayer says many of the school's founders, with whom she is acquainted, tried for years to work within the public school system, but eventually despaired of making any progress. She feels, she says, that the Charter School is a "wonderful alternative."

On the question of charter school funding, she notes, the system of educational funding, in general, is flawed. "If educational costs keep rising, the local taxpayer can't possibly afford them," she says. "But how can we tell people who supported budget increases over the years that there is now no money to fund their kids in the Charter School?"

Princeton Regional's complaints about a Charter School drain on the district budget cannot be taken seriously, she maintains. "Their biggest fear is that the Charter School is a threat to a guarded and entrenched system."

The charter school law, according to Mr. Frank, was definitely not inspired by communities like Princeton, but rather by the plight of parents in inner city districts who enjoyed no educational alternatives.

"That doesn't mean, however, that people shouldn't creatively use the law," he says, "although I feel strongly that we should try to change the funding. If we can get more money for the district — whether for Princeton Regional or the Charter School — it's got to be a win-win situation."

Board Worked Hard to Maintain Standards While Limiting Costs in Proposed Budget

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The core mission of any School Board boils down to a balancing act. We must provide the best education for our children at a cost that is acceptable to the taxpayers. This year, our budget must meet the upward pressures of growing enrollment and insurance costs, requirements for implementation of core curriculum standards in foreign language, and more than $1 million in State-mandated support of the Charter School. In addition, we must attend to the proper maintenance of our aging school buildings. The proposed budget that will go before the voters on April 21 contains an 8.95 percent increase over last year reflecting these pressures.

During my first term on the Board I pushed for administrative reorganization and on-going review of operational areas where we might achieve savings in our budget. Along with others on the Board, I also encouraged the district to seek cost reductions by sharing services with the Township and Borough. Our administration has achieved savings in these areas of more than $2.5 million that have been put back into the classroom, reflecting our clear priorities in supporting the children.

However, there is a general recognition the next round of savings in our budget will only come with more difficulty. I agree with recent suggestions that we must thoroughly examine our educational programs, rigorously evaluate their strengths and weaknesses, and possibly find areas where we can achieve savings there as well.

The Board's Finance Committee (whose members have substantial professional expertise in budgetary policy and implementation) has been working with our Business Administrator, Dr. Swirsky, for eight months to examine every aspect of the budget in detail. We have also held hearings at each school to explain the budget. The Board now asks for your support of our children and our schools. The budget contains substantial increased funding for long-overdue building maintenance, and supports introduction of foreign language instruction in the elementary schools. The Board is also holding discussions with the staff about ways to reduce our rising insurance costs.

In the face of the budget constraints noted above, and in spite of constant changes in state mandates and regulations, the Board and the administration have put together a budget that deserves our support. We have worked hard to achieve balance between maintaining and enhancing our high standards for education in Princeton, while respecting the very real limits of the taxpayers' ability to support it.

On a final note, some in the community have raised concerns about Princeton's ability to attract high caliber candidates for our Superintendent position. A failure to pass the budget is the surest way to discourage applicants! Support for the budget will send a clear message that Princeton supports its schools. I therefore encourage you to join me in voting for this budget on April 21.

No Challenge to Our School System Is More Important Than Assessments

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Of all the challenges that our school system faces, none is more important than assessments. As parents, we all want to know, "What are our children learning?" And "how does their performance compare to that of children elsewhere?" And as taxpayers, we want to know, "How are our schools performing?" And "Are we getting our money's worth?"

Of course, it is not the job of the school board to micromanage and tell our administrators how to assess students and programs. But it is the board's job to oversee the process and to insist that our administrators take assessments seriously, that they explain how and why they chose their assessment methods, and that they explain the results clearly and directly. And it is the board's job to instruct the administrators to act upon the results of their assessments.

We must start asking what works, what doesn't, and why. This is especially important for one of the thorniest problems of the Princeton Regional Schools — minority achievement. As a statistician at the Educational Testing Service and the author of some of the most widely used textbooks on modern testing, I am intimately familiar with the values, and the pitfalls, of assessment. As a board member, I would work assiduously to oversee the schools' assessment efforts, supporting our teachers and administrators and also, in the end, demanding results.

Board Members Elected This Month Will Shape District for Next Decade

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Let me repeat: The candidates for the Princeton Regional School Board that you elect this year will make decisions that will profoundly shape the District for the next decade. The new Board will be responsible for negotiating the terms of the next teachers' contract as well as making decisions about over one half of the senior administrative staff including a new superintendent, a new principal for the High School, an assistant superintendent, a facilities manager, and at least two other principals. These responsibilities are at the core of every issue so far presented in this campaign.

It is easy to see these decisions as being about dollars and cents, and they are. They are also about the quality of education. Getting it right saves us in the long run, but getting it wrong will cost us more every year. Bad decisions will make progress impossible and will cost us a great deal of money. They will waste valuable time and will further divide the community. A generation of children cannot wait until more bad decisions are reversed. On the other hand, good decisions will give us the people we need to create a stable educational environment that meets the needs of each and every student.

As a Board member, I would look closely at those parts of the teachers' contract that shape the everyday experiences of our children. Are the contact hours between teachers and students used most effectively, or have they been broken into too many "time bites?" How can we support excellence in teaching? How can we help teachers to overcome problems and weaknesses?

The quality of teaching is dependent upon the quality of administration. Administrators must identify the best new teachers to hire, provide feedback on their performance, and make recommendations to the Board about tenure. They must assess regularly every teacher's efforts. However, this assessment is meaningless if the same administrators do not also provide the means for solving the problems they identify and promoting the excellence they observe.

In addition, administrators must work together with the Board to evaluate and develop programs and policies, and to generate creative responses to increasing pressures on the budget. Only through this process will the public gain confidence in the decisions that are being made. As a Board member, I would be searching for administrators who have demonstrated their ability to address these issues in ways that will bring the Princeton Regional Schools more firmly into the forefront of world education.

The Board is responsible for the quality of education and for the best use of the taxpayers' dollars. Nobody is in favor of trading quality for economy. Since most of the money we spend pays the salaries of our teachers and administrators, the best way to insure that our money is well spent is to focus on the hiring, evaluation and development of these staff members. The Board members you elect this year will have a unique opportunity to do this because it will be doing it for so many.

Our School Board Has Little Respect In Accounting for Taxpayers' Money

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In the swirl of the great fanfare of a major press conference, business administrator-Swirsky and board president-Marrero have announced that the school board is suing the former district auditor for $3.3 million for failing to notice improper accounting practices. ("We are fiscally responsible to hold the auditors accountable," said Marrero). Quite honestly, I have not been very impressed with the current board's accounting practices either.

The total budget increase is an enormous $3.1 million and a 9 percent increase over our current budget of $35,246,187. Anyone who checks the School District Budget Statement, line by line, can see that nearly half of the amount comes from salary increases. Yet, the budget summary distributed to the community and discussed at the board meetings claims that only $631,000 is due to salary increases, an amount that corresponds exactly to the price of new hires and the cost of teachers moving up the salary guide. So why the extra $800,000 which is buried in the salary budget? And are additional monies hidden elsewhere? I have wanted to find that out for some time but Mr. Swirsky has denied me a copy of the complete budget five times in the past two months (any taxpayer is entitled to it, even if he/she is not a board candidate). On the sixth request he gave me a copy which is missing many of the most important sections. Most notably the Personnel and Facilities budget sections.

This is why it is difficult for me to believe the business administrator/acting superintendent and the board president when they talk about fiscal accountability. It seems to me that they themselves engage in creative accounting. Another great example of that is the list of damages they seek from the auditor, published in all the local newspapers. Among other damages, they are seeking payment of $1.2 million which according to Mr. Swirsky, is "the money that could have been raised by taxes but was not because the bond money ($900,000) was used instead." Both the math and the logic appear somewhat flawed to say the least.

The only items that are underestimated in the list of damages are the costs of litigation ($465,000). Close on the heels of another bad decision which is costing the district $300,000, I fear that the district will never recover even those costs from the lawsuit and more taxpayers' money will go down the drain. But this board has already shown not to have much respect for taxpayers' money.

Candidate's Personal Qualities & Skills Would Contribute to Our School Board

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Our family moved to Princeton a few years ago to take advantage of the excellent public high school for our two teenage sons. Knowing that all schools, both public and private, have their strengths and weaknesses, we have been very satisfied overall with the quality of education at Princeton High. Whatever the rancor may be at the administrative level, it does not seem to be affecting the achievements of the student body as a whole. For this, we applaud the teachers for their ability to continue to do their job well in spite of the squabbling factions within the school community.

Besides the high academic standards, there was another compelling aspect of Princeton High that contributed to our decision to enroll our children here and that is the ethnic diversity. Moving from a homogenous community (Solebury Township, Bucks County, Pa.), we wanted our children to be a part of a community where many different cultures enrich the lives of each other.

Therefore, it has been with disappointment and sadness that we have watched how many friendships made across ethnic lines in the middle school dissolve when high school begins. I ask myself, my family, and other individuals who live in one of the most privileged communities in the country, what can we do to enhance relationships across ethnic boundaries. What are the reasons behind the breakdown of friendships between the middle school and the high school? What is the correlation between academic and extra-curricular participation and success and the making and breaking of these friendships?

This was one topic of conversation at a recent get together for the candidacy of Walter Frank, who is running for the open seat in the Borough's upcoming school board election. Mr. Frank's genuine interest and concern on the subject was obvious through the questions he asked and the way in which he opened up a dialogue among the guests present. Clearly, this is a man who encourages and respects the views of others, and understands that the best way to problem solve is to listen first.

Mr. Frank's highly relevant professional qualifications have already been listed in these pages. With this letter, we would like to underscore how well his personal qualities and skills will contribute to our school board.

The Rose Family Photography Exhibit A Great Success, Thanks to Volunteers

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Historical Society of Princeton would like to thank TOWN TOPICS for the complete and accurate coverage given our new exhibition: "Practical Photographers: The Rose Family Studio." The opening reception attracted nearly 200 people and daily attendance has been between 50 and 80.

Some of the more than 160 photographs in the exhibition are unidentified. The Community Identification Bulletin Board in the hallway of Bainbridge House has already attracted a number of identifications from area residents. Every day a visitor asks for a copy of a photograph depicting a relative or ancestor, or shares with us a personal photo related in some way to the exhibition.

The Society would like to express appreciation to our funding agencies and individual supporters. Without them, the exhibition would not have been possible. The exhibit sponsors are: The New Jersey Historical Commission, the Horizon Foundation and RCN of New Jersey and the History Channel. Additional support came from the Princeton Rotary Club, Betty Reed, Annette Merle-Smith, Jackie and Cy Meisel and Anastasia K. Schulze in memory of her grandmother Lucy H. Schulze.

We would also like to thank all of the individuals, organizations, and businesses who assisted us in organizing the exhibition: exhibition curators Maureen M. Smyth and Sally K. Davidson; exhibition designer Steve Tucker; exhibition interns David Koch, Marisa Morigil and David Rodan; curatorial assistants Dante Arcamone and Maryline Cotentin-Agrawala; exhibition committee members Henry Drewry, Elric Endersby, Wanda Gunning, Jackie Meisel and Elizabeth Bates; Rose Collection Committee Jackie Meisel, Larry Parsons, Helen Schwartz, and Betty Reed.

We would also like to thank Steven Rowland, with Andy Schmitt, and Joe Waldron for exhibition preparation; Taylor Photo, Sally K. Davidson, Leona M. Law, and David C. Wurtzel for photographic processing; and Framesmith Gallery for mounting. Other business contributors include Smyth Electric, Urkens Hardware and Prime Photo. Marie Miller served as costume consultant. John Apostolos, Dante Arcamone, James Goodman, Henry Isaac, Winnie Okamitsu, Libby Shanefeld, and Jessica Stearns have spent many hours as volunteers working in the Rose Collection.

Additional assistance was provided by: Janet Arrington, Harriet Calloway, Bernie Danish, Christine Finklestein, Herb Halprin, George Helmke, Albert Hinds, Jeff Hurwitz, Jake Lutz, Henry Pentillo, Sam Petok, Benjamin Primer, Jane Rudes, Shirley Satterfield, and Evelyn Turner.

We are so grateful for all of the interest, encouragement and support of the community — thank you!

Advice for daily living

Family Advice Column:

"GAMBLING"

By the Rev. Peter K. Stimpson

The Rev. Peter K. Stimpson

QUESTION: I have a friend who just lost $22,000 in Atlantic City. Why do people gamble, and how can his family and I help?

ANSWER: A. STATISTICS: About 3% of people have a gambling problem, and people in general annually spend approximately $210 billion dollars on legal games. Your friend's situation is bad, but amazingly, one study revealed that the average debt for gamblers in therapy was $92,000. The debt for those whom I have seen in therapy ranged from $50,000 to $450,000.

B. CHARACTERISTICS: Those who are lost in their problem exhibit a number of signs. They are preoccupied with gambling, and tend to increase the amount of their bet to gain the desired "rush". They use gambling as a way to feel better about themselves. Yet, when bad goes to worse, they "chase" their losses, namely, betting more to "catch up". When they can not do that, they may borrow money from friends or relatives, or commit theft, forgery, or embezzlement to continue gambling, promising to eventually put back what they took.

C. CAUSES: What drives the problem is complex, but many point to parents who might have provided gifts and money as a guilty reparation for the lack of quality time they spent with their children. If money equals love, or the power to get love, then gambling is seen as a possible quick fix. Other theories state that people who grew up poor simply see happiness as having money, and again, gambling provides the lure of getting there fast.

D. TREATMENT: Certainly, the person must be helped to challenge the meaning of money, and seeing that one can be happy and a good provider without necessarily rolling in money like Scrooge McDuck.

Apart from a shift in thinking, there needs to be a shift in behavior. As the person is suffering from an addiction, abstinence vs. "cutting back" is required. Therefore, the person needs support, and should join Gamblers Anonymous (GA).

Families need to be counseled as to how they can help, usually by removing access to money as much as possible. This includes handing over paychecks to a spouse, taking away all credit cards, and having bank accounts which require a counter signature. Families need help in seeing these actions as kind vs. cruel, and in resisting manipulations for sympathy, such as a loan from parent being for "the baby" vs. gambling.

As the game is ending, depression and thoughts of suicide may be beginning, and counseling will return over and over to the notion of self-esteem coming from internal qualities vs. external money. Your true friendship, your caring even when the money is gone, will be essential to your friend's recovery.

Time to Elect Creative Problem Solver Like Walter Frank to the School Board

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Communities such as ours value public debate dearly. We recognize the importance of challenging discourse in the determination of sound public policy. We commit ourselves and our ideas to this dialogue freely, trusting that others will consider and respect our contributions to the degree that these prove to promote the better interest of the community. The difficulty seems to arise when the voracity of the argument is sustained more by vanity or myopic self interest than a recognition of one's obligation before the common good.

Many in this community have expressed concern regarding the tone of recent Princeton regional School Board dealings. The future promises to present significant challenges before the School Board and our community. Difficult decisions await us. It is time to set aside the divisive and accusatory rhetoric that has at times marred recent editions of the Board. It is time to elect individuals capable of managing the diversity of community concerns in a manner that fosters the sincere, intelligent, prudent, and deliberate consideration of issues entrusted to this body. It is time to elect creative problem solvers who understand the imperatives of both fiscal responsibility and promotion of a cooperative and supportive learning environment.

It is for this reason that we enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Walter Frank for the open Borough seat in the upcoming School Board election.

Walter is an affable, caring individual defined by both a profound sense of fairness and an uncanny ability to elevate the quality of dialogue and achieve cooperative results. His nature and demeanor will greatly enhance the next Board's capacity for consensus in the identification of priorities and policy. As an attorney and Chief of Commercial Litigation for the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, Walter has extensive experience in managing complexity in matters of public finance.

His years as president of both the Princeton Youth Baseball Association and of the Instructional League are evidence of his sporting nature and his dedication to the youth of our community. The near decade that we have known Walter assures us that he will serve this community with distinction.

We look forward to the coming election, for we recognize the opportunity it presents to secure our children's education and to restore responsible judgment to the Board. We encourage everyone to get to know Walter and join us in support of his candidacy.

Borough Finances Have Been Audited And State Recommended Consolidation

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Regarding Kate Warren's letter of last week [TOWN TOPICS, April 1] proposing a State audit of the Borough's finances, were it so simple!

The idea that the Borough might volunteer to stand in line behind 227 other local governments for a special State audit is fine, as far as it goes. Audits, like chicken soup, are inherently helpful. But an additional State audit will not address the long-term structural problem that challenges the Borough's finances.

If we Borough residents want to obtain the best municipal services at the best price, we must not wait for the State to act. We must act quickly and aggressively ourselves. The 1998 Borough budget hearings are open to the public, and all interested persons are most welcome to make concrete suggestions now. Or, come to the April 14 Borough/ Township hearing at 7:30 p.m. at Township Hall regarding the creation of a joint social service agency which has been proposed to deliver services to the community more cost effectively!

There are no simple solutions. The Borough's finances are severely strained because, on the one hand, State law and market forces require expenditures which currently exceed the rate of inflation, but on the other, the Borough's tax base which is used to fund those expenditures is stagnant or shrinking, largely because 50 percent of the real property is tax-exempt. The result is that the Borough's tax rate has been and will continue rising at several times the rate of inflation.

Comprehensive independent reviews of the Borough's finances were conducted less than two years ago. One was undertaken by a bi-partisan task force of Borough residents, including an accountant and a banker. Another was conducted by non-partisan elected representatives of the Borough and Township. The latter was substantially assisted by the State.

The result of these reviews was a recommendation, supported by the State, that the Borough and Township consolidate. The Borough voters rejected that recommendation in November, 1996, in large part thanks to Ms. Warren's campaign against consolidation.

It's curious, then, that Ms. Warren would now urge the State to review the Borough's finances when the State did so less than two years ago, and the results of that review Ms. Warren rejected.

If anyone has suggestions about delivering better municipal services at an affordable tax rate, they are most welcome to make their suggestions — concretely and right now!

Candidate Would Eliminate Choice The Charter School Offers Parents

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I grew up on the streets of Philadelphia during the 1950s and 1960s. The total cost of my parents' rowhouse was less than my current annual property tax bill. My parents were not well-educated. Obviously I attended public schools. But when I was in the eighth grade, I was given a choice. If I passed a special test, I could go to a public high school (called Central High School) that offered a more rigorous education compared to that offered in my neighborhood high school. With other kids off the street from around the city — many of more modest means than myself — I went to Central High School, and it changed my life and the lives of many others.

For decades, many cities have had special public schools (often called magnet schools) that offered alternative educational opportunities to children in the arts or sciences. There has never been a public outcry over the existence of such educational choice in other public school systems, even though they are funded with public tax dollars, and do not allow voters to design their curricula. In fact, in 15 New Jersey school districts, board members are not even elected but are appointed instead. This is why I am so perplexed when charter school opponents like Todd Tieger claim that the Princeton Charter School (PCS) is a "private school funded by public tax monies."

Private schools charge tuition, PCS does not. Private schools require prospective students to pass admission exams. PCS does not. Private schools are selective in other ways and some discriminate on the basis of religion or race. PCS is non-selective and nondiscriminatory — admission is by random lottery among those who apply and, in fact, the proportion of PCS students categorized as minority is identical to that in the regional school district. Finally, private schools typically provide a more rigorous education that better prepares students for college. Since this is the only way in which PCS does resemble a private school, it must be why Todd Tieger labels it as such.

Actually, those who want the regional school system to spend more money per child without raising any taxes should actually encourage PCS to increase its enrollment. For what Todd Tieger fails to tell you is that every time a child transfers from the regional school system to PCS, the amount of money transferred is less than the amount spent per child in the district. Through simple arithmetic, this automatically results in an increase in the funds available per-child to educate the students remaining in the Princeton Regional Schools. This will always be true no matter what formula is set by the state.

The Princeton Charter School will not be well-suited for all children. Some may do better in the less-structured atmosphere of the regional schools. But now Princeton parents have a choice, just as my parents had 30 years ago, and as parents still do in every big city in the country. Unlike big city magnet schools, however, PCS has no admissions exam; it is freely open to the children of all Princeton residents.

Todd Tieger would like to eliminate educational choice in Princeton. Why? Perhaps he thinks he knows better than you what's best for your child (whom he's never met). Perhaps he is beholden to school unions who are angry that PCS is beyond their reach. In either case, in the next school board election, you will have the opportunity to tell Todd Tieger that you don't agree with his exclusionary educational philosophy.

School Board Candidate Is Expert At Working With Complex Issues

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The election of the members of the school board is one of the most intimate ways a community connects to the democratic process and to its future. The impact is direct — those whom we elect are commissioned to think and to take actions on behalf of our children. This year, we have the privilege to consider Walter Frank as a candidate for the Princeton School Board in the Borough.

There are several reasons a person can be qualified for the position; however, two requirements are fundamental: a love of children and an ability to be effective on a school board where diverse opinions will need to be reconciled.

As a neighbor and a friend, I would like to highlight Walter's credentials for the position. First and foremost, Walter delights in being with children. Be it starting a baseball league or throwing a Frisbee with them, Walter genuinely enjoys observing and working with children. As a parent, along with his wife Lydia, Walter has encouraged his children as they have grown, through support and devotion. The warmth in their family is evident through even the simplest gestures, such as in the loving manner David and Rebecca greet their parents. Walter's motivation for seeking the position of the school board emanates from his thorough enjoyment of helping children — a thoroughly pristine purpose and one that you can rely upon once he is elected.

Professionally, Walter's skill in reaching agreements will prove to be a quintessential element as a member of the school board. Walter is expert at working with complex issues where diversity of opinion threatens to stymie the group's progress. I believe Walter can act as a catalyst on the board, creating an atmosphere in which action and accomplishment may take place.

The School Board functions on our behalf as residents in the community. I urge you to consider his candidacy and to vote for him as Princeton Borough's newest member to the School Board.

Todd Tieger Asks the Right Questions In an Effort to Help Our Schoolchildren

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I support Todd Tieger for School Board because he has supported me: every time I have brought him a question or a concern about a school issue he has listened thoughtfully and responded helpfully. I have also heard him support all the children: asking why there are still disproportionately more minority children in special ed classes and why there are still so few in advanced classes.

I want to thank Todd Tieger for asking these questions, and we need to give him a chance to press forward for the answers. Vote April 21st to keep Todd Tieger where we need him — on the School Board, working for us all.

Increase in Public Employee Salaries Exceeds the General Inflation Rate

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Princeton Borough is a wonderful place to live. The people are caring, sensitive, and well-meaning. Crime is low; schools and university are excellent. For these and other reasons, I am willing to pay high property taxes.

Nevertheless, each year my taxes increase much more than the general inflation rate; each year Borough and school employees garner salary increases beyond those in the private sector; each year the total number of public employees increases while the Borough population is static.

These facts show that our elected officials have a sensitivity to our public employees (particularly school teachers) which is exemplary but, in the long run, destructive. Services will slowly disappear; fixed income residents will be forced to leave.

While I am probably out of step with the majority of our population, I am asking for a heightened sensitivity to public expenditure.

Finally, I shall vote against the school budget on April 21— $12, 000 per pupil per year is just too rich.

Fill Dysfunctional School Board With Strong Problem Solvers

To the Editor of Town Topics:

For the upcoming election I admit to being a one-issue voter, the issue being the dysfunctional condition of a school board, of presumably capable and worthy individuals, which has brought about the present disastrous situation.

Before further damage is done to our school district's ability to continue attracting top quality people, we need immediately to fill at least a couple of seats with strong presences that stand for responsible give-and-take problem-solving and policy-making, not polarized power voting that marginalizes the outnumbered members of the board.

Howard Walner would, by both career experience and personal qualities, bring to the school board a large measure of this particular strength — along with highly expert knowledge and mature perspective on vital educational issues. I urge a vote for him on April 21st.

Why Isn't Borough Council Taking Advantage Of State Audit, Asks GOP Council Candidate

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The topic of conversation around our dining room table for the past few weeks has centered on my announcement to my family that I was seriously considering the Borough Republican Municipal Committee's invitation to make another run for Borough Council.

We talked about the State's offer to perform a Local Government Budget Review for local municipalities and school districts to identify potential savings for property taxpayers. At a time when Borough taxpayers are facing an 11 percent increase in the municipal tax rate and an 8.9 percent increase in the school budget, we voiced our dismay in unison — why aren't we taking advantage of this audit? We wondered aloud why Council chooses to eliminate vital services rather than invite an independent, impartial review of our annual financial statements and operating budgets to ferret out possible savings.

Our discussions lead us to ask why Borough voters continue to support the status quo. Why do Borough voters blindly accept the budget year after year? Why do Borough voters continue to support a Council who is more concerned with micromanagement than setting policy? Why do Borough voters tolerate Council's dismissal of task force findings that are in opposition to its own agenda? Why are Borough residents forced to continually expend time, energy, and money on grassroot efforts to undo Council's knee-jerk reactions? We concluded, it's time to toll the tocsin!

We need a Council who sets policy, who is proactive, and who is in touch with Borough residents. We need leadership. We need to refocus and redirect Council's energy to finding solutions to quality of life issues present in our community. We need a comprehensive plan to deal with increasing property taxes. We need to be inclusive. We need to set spending priorities.

And so, with the support and encouragement of my family, I graciously accepted the invitation to continue my campaign to win a seat on Borough Council.

Brand New Facility to House The Princeton Junior School

I am inspired by children and the way they learn, and I am inspired by those who love them and want to teach them. It gives me energy, imagination, and joy. I never tire of it."

These are the words of the dedicated headmistress of Princeton Junior School, and they set the tone for the educational environment of this unique school.

Headmistress since the school's beginning in 1983, Juliana McIntyre brings extensive experience as an educator, artist, and parent to her mission. Born in Princeton, she attended both its public and private schools. In addition to a B.A. from Wellesley and a M.Ed. from Harvard, she received training in the fields of art, music and drama. She has taught at Barnard College, Kent School, The Brearley School, and Miss Mason's School in Princeton.

IT'S NEW To Us

"When Miss Mason's School closed, one of the teachers, Nancy Robins, established the Bayard School to continue Miss Mason's teaching style and philosophy for a small group of pre-schoolers," recalls Mrs. McIntyre.

That school was replaced the following year by Princeton Junior School, co-founded by Mrs. McIntyre and Helen Craven. It included four teachers and 12 pre-school students.

Over the years, the school has thrived. Current enrollment is 99, including preschool (starting at age 2½), kindergarten, and grades one through five, with 20 teachers and aides.

Loving Atmasphere

Always, Mrs. McIntyre's vision of Princeton Junior School as a model for early education has been foremost in the school's philosophy and structure. By combining children's "passion for play and learning with basic academic experiences in a loving atmosphere, their early education becomes a taproot for life," she explains.

This continues to be the focus despite changes in society during the past 15 years.

"The school has changed because children and family life has changed," points out Mrs. McIntyre. "But the taproot is the same. Children love to learn, and children need to love learning all their lives. We should preserve this desire, nurture it, and teach the basics in as wonderful and imaginative ways as possible.

"The integration of the arts into the curriculum is a way of making teaching and learning even more exciting," she adds. "Art, music, and drama enrich the educational experience."

Allowing children to work at their own pace within a structured environment is emphasized at the school, as are the concepts of children learning from each other and valuing routines and rules they understand.

Both cooperative and individualized behavior and learning are stressed, points out Linda Pontell-Schaefer, director of admissions, whose son attends the school.

Eclectic Group

"I am especially interested as a parent because I believe so strongly in individualization. The children are able to go ahead on their own, and because of the supportive and nurturing environment, they have the confidence to go further on their assignments."

Another important factor in the school's success is the low teacher-student ratio, she adds. "Most of our parents come to us for a variety of reasons, and they are a very eclectic group of families. There is a lot of diversity, with kids coming from Princeton, Lawrenceville, West Windsor, Montgomery, and Trenton. But the parents all share a strong interest in class size. The student-teacher ratio ranges from 5 to 1 (2½-year-olds) to up to 12 to 1 in the higher grades."

Despite its success, Princeton Junior School has never had a permanent home, and has operated out of many locations. Its students are currently housed at three sites — Princeton Theological Seminary, the Unitarian Church, and Christ Congregation Church.

This will change next September when students will gather under one roof at the school's new home on Fackler Road, just off Route 206 in Lawrenceville.

Gathering Place

The handsome one-story building, which can accommodate 150 students, will house 11 classrooms, library, music/drama room, art room (dedicated in memory of Olivia Kuenne), kitchen, administrative offices, and especially important, a large commons room at its center.

"The commons room or great hall will be a gathering place," explains Mrs. McIntyre. "The children will eat lunch there, and it will act almost as a town green, which is so important to the sense of community."

WORK IN PROGRESS: "We have really searched for a place since the school began. We looked at houses, estates, churches, firehouses, and barns. Then we decided to buy our own land." Juliana McIntyre, (left) headmistress, and Linda Pontell-Schaefer, director of admissions, of Princeton Junior School, inspect the school's new facility, currently under construction.

The school will also offer sports activities and a soccer field.

Princeton Junior School purchased the six-acre site in 1991, and the building has been financed by contributions from numerous individuals, as well as through the Economic Development Authority of New Jersey.

Mrs. McIntyre has been delighted that architect Mark Thompson was able to translate the school's educational goals into an engaging and appropriate architectural design. Also important to the project are the Yedlin Company of Princeton and Van Cleef Engineering.

"Everyone connected with the project has made a wonderful contribution," she says. "Stan McKaig, the school's representative, has taken over for Carl Storey, our original representative, who died recently. Carl had been with the project from the beginning."

Mrs. McIntyre notes that by having its own building, the school can now add new dimension to the curriculum, including a health and nutrition program and an increased emphasis on hands-on learning. Computer education and Spanish will also be increasingly important for even younger students.

A stewardship program will enable children to help take care of the building and grounds, and learning through landscape will be part of the curriculum.

In addition, an outreach program with the Lawrenceville Nursing Home will offer intergenerational benefits to children and older people alike.

"The school has been a succession of miracles," says Mrs. McIntyre with a smile. "We have worked through many challenges and struggles, knowing that a lot of frustration can be overcome by a wonderful spirit.

"Above all," she adds, "we want the kids to know that they are their own greatest resource, that their mind, heart, body and senses are their first tools for living and learning. We do all we can to nurture this."

Selection from South Africa Highlighted at Kwela Crafts

Kwela Crafts, the new shop at 46 Main Street in Kingston, is a wonderful resource for contemporary handcrafted items from Africa.

"We want to be a window into Africa," explains co-owner Helge Deaton. "Our items come from southern African locations, such as Namibia, Botswana, Zimbabwe, and South Africa, with a few things from elsewhere."

"In a way, we are trying to 'unmask' Africa," adds co-owner Davida Wood. "We want to convey Africa not in the traditional past, and present an African store without masks and drums. The people whose work we carry are dynamic artists, whose creations are contemporary and a reinterpretation of traditional works and artifacts."

The two owners, now Princeton residents, were both born and reared in Africa; Ms. Deaton in Namibia and Ms. Wood in South Africa. The shop is their first retail venture, and they are enthusiastic about its reception.

"People are very interested in seeing these items from Africa, especially because they are contemporary," reports Ms. Deaton. "Some of our customers have been to Africa themselves, others are just interested in items from Africa."

What visitors will find is a colorful selection charmingly displayed in the shop's cozy quarters.

One-of-a-Kind

Hand-sewn screened and potato prints offer one-of-a-kind cushion covers, aprons, placemats, napkins, and tablecloths in assorted patterns and wonderful blends of color.

Gorgeous embroidered fabrics from Namibia include cushion covers, tablecloths, aprons, and bags. A very special red tote bag, featuring a bird motif, is made by the Anin Embroidery Company in Namibia. Anin means "many birds" in the Nama language. Embroidered bed linens will be available shortly.

"We also have screened and potato print fabrics, very suitable for draperies," adds Ms. Deaton. "I don't think our screened prints and embroidery are available elsewhere in the U.S."

"Mud" cloth from Mali and batik from Kenya are also available at the shop. "Mud cloth is woven in strips, then sewn, dyed and covered with mud. A design is then applied, and it is dyed again," explains Ms. Deaton. "This cloth can be used for wall hangings, throws, and cushions, among other items."

Another specialty at Kwela Crafts is the selection of extremely handsome rugs. "These are woolen handspun, hand-dyed, hand-woven rugs, with different themes and patterns, including animal and geometric designs," says Ms. Deaton. "They are very well made and durable, and come in all sizes."

Handcrafted baskets in all shapes and sizes have been especially popular, and they include a selection of Zulu beer baskets (originally made for drinking beer). Very large storage baskets are also made by the Zulu tribe, and assorted other baskets are available in many styles.

Contemporary Aspect

"The baskets are traditional, but with new shapes and colors, emphasizing the contemporary aspect of our crafts," notes Ms. Deaton.

There are also baskets made of telephone or fencing wire, which offer a totally different look.

"Our urban crafts, such as the telephone wire baskets, emphasize recycling," points out Ms. Wood. "Also, the rural women who are producing the traditional baskets of palm leaves do this as a supplement to their income. It is important to understand the relevance of work in their lives.

"Always, of course, our first criterion regarding the products is that they must be interesting and of high quality."

Special Piece

Decorative hand-carved wood items, such as elephants and other animal figures, are also on display in assorted sizes, as are beaded dolls. Of special interest is a beaded wedding necklace in wonderful colors. "Traditionally worn by the bride at her wedding, this is a very special piece," explains Ms. Deaton.

Selected items of jewelry and small colorful ceramic animals are also featured, as is a selection of south African CDs.

"The CDs offer a variety of south African music, including Kwela music," says Ms. Deaton. "Kwela music uses a penny pipe (a recorder-type instrument), and it started in the area of Johannesburg. We chose this for the name of our shop because it was original and south African."

Items at the store cover a very wide price range, from $2.50 on up. A set of four screened placemats and napkins is $40, baskets from $6 to $860, small tasseled screened trinket bags $20, and a potato print apron $30. Gift certificates are offered, and there are many wonderful Mother's Day items available.

"We love to share information about our products with customers, many of whom are very knowledgeable," says Ms. Deaton. "We are very pleased to have regular customers already, and we look forward to becoming a place where people will come and browse, read books on southern Africa, listen to music, and enjoy themselves.

"Our emphasis is on personal service and attention, and there are special items here that people can't find anywhere else. We also look forward to participating in Communiversity in April and the Hospital Fete in June. It's a pleasure to be here."

Kwela Crafts is open Tuesday through Saturday 11 to 6. 279-2188.

THE DRYDEN ENSEMBLE will offer a concert Saturday, April 18, at 8 p.m. in the Princeton University Chapel.

Dryden Ensemble Will Offer Music From Paris, Venice

The Dryden Ensemble will close its 1997-98 season with "Paris and Venice: Marais to Vivaldi," on Saturday, April 18 at 8 p.m., in the Princeton University Chapel.

The concert features French and Italian baroque chamber music in a colorful program of contrasting styles and textures. Opening with a trio by Frenchman Marin Marais, the focus then shifts to Italy's golden age of the violin, with sonatas by Venetian composers Marini and Legrenzi.

Venice's most famous musician, Antonio Vivaldi, is well represented by two programmatic chamber concertos, "La Notte" and "Il Gardellino." Written in a style similar to that of Vivaldi's Four Seasons, these concertos feature Colin St. Martin on the baroque flute.

Couperin's Huitième Concert "dans le goût théatral," a theatrical work full of contrasting moods, dances, timbres, and rich sonorities concludes the program.

The Dryden Ensemble is dedicated to performing baroque and early classical music on period instruments, true to the stylistic conventions of the 17th and 18th centuries. The Dryden Ensemble includes Colin St. Martin, flute; Jane McKinley, oboe; David Myford and Mary Hostetler Hoyt, violins; Lisa Terry, viola da gamba and cello; James Bolyard, bassoon; and Webb Wiggins, harpsichord and organ.

MUSIC & THEATRE

"Paris and Venice" will also be performed on Sunday, April 19 at 3 p.m. at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, located on East Oakland Avenue at Pine Street in Doylestown, Penn.

Musical to Be Offered By University Players

The Princeton University Players will present a production of Closer Than Ever by the song-writing team of Maltby and Shire. This is a two-hour revue of the composers' music that never made it into a full-fledged musical. The 23 songs will be sung by four performers: David Kessler, Todd Barry, Sarah Corey, and Katie Pickett.

Performances will take place in the Wilson College Blackbox Theatre on the Princeton University campus April 16 to 18 and April 23 to 25 at 8 p.m. There will be a matinee on April 25 at 3.

Tickets are $7 for adults and $5 for students and seniors. For reservations, call 258-2255.

McCarter Theatre Is Filled for Jimmy Stewart Tribute

The allure of one of Holiywood's greatest stars, who also happens to be a Princeton and Triangle Club alumnus, proved an irresistibie draw Monday night, when the Triangle Club remembered Jimmy Stewart '32, in "An Evening of Entertainment and Reminiscence."

The theater was filled with alumni/ae of Triangle, along with hundreds of people who had come at Triangle's invitation to the community, and who wanted to enjoy an evening of nostalgia and entertainment.

Sitting in the back row, dressed as a white rabbit, was Princeton resident Angeline Austin. She was honoring Jimmy Stewart's role as Elwood Dowd in the film, Horvey, as well as having some fun. Many understood who she was, she said, aithough a few thought she was the Easter Bunny.

Today's Triangle undergraduates sang some of the Club's best-known songs, but most of the evening belonged to the Club's most famous alumnus.

A large screen stood above the stage, and the evening began with photos and clips of Jimmy Stewart in his Triangle days.

The year was 1930, and Triangle was about to open its new venue, McCarter Theatre. Its former theater, the Casino, had burnt to the ground six years earlier.

In the chorus was Jimmy Stewart, who had initially been rejected by the Club. But his skill with the accordion had not gone unnoticed, and he was cast as an accordion specialty act, with a side appearance in the chorus.

A Star in Senior Year

By the end of his senior year he was a star. One of his songs in Sponish Blodes, "Day After Day," was played. It evoked the music of that era. And even if Stewart was no Bing Crosby, his voice and delivery weren't half bad.

Triangle Club alumnus and author Scott Berg '71 then came center stage to present "Mr. Stewart Goes to Holiywood." In addition to celebrating Jimmy Stewart's life, Mr. Berg had something of his own to celebrate. His new biography, Lindbergh, had just been soid to Steven Spielberg, who will direct a movie based on the book. Publication is this fail.

Calling Jimmy Stewart "Princeton's most beloved alum," Mr. Berg said he had known the star for 30 years. "Each time I saw him, he always asked three questions. One, did you get to Reunions? Two, did you get to McCarter? And three, did you see the Triangle show?"

Mr. Berg said that Stewart's iife would make a terrible biography, since he went from success to success: beginning with his starring roies with Triangle and moving into a brilliant career on stage. Then, in 1935, he signed with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. As the decade continued, Stewart's roies got larger and larger, culminating in his Academy Award for The Philodelphio Story.

Small Town American Hero

Director Frank Capra saw the tall, handsome actor as the embodiment of the smali town American hero, a roie Stewart filled to near perfection in Capra's Mr. Smith Goes to Woshington.

"Now he was at the top, with huge box office, and he was drafted," said Mr. Berg. "He could have gotten out. John Wayne got no cioser to the sands of Iwo Jima than Malibu."

But Jimmy Stewart chose to serve. A private pilot, he entered the Army Air Force. He flew 20 bombing missions over Germany, and ieft the Army at war's end a highiy decorated fuii Colonel.

His pay in the Army was $21 a month, down from the $12,000 a month he earned at MGM. But he continued to send his agent ten percent.

Jimmy Stewart had been away from Holiywood for five years, iong enough to be forgotten. But he wasn't. Even greater acclaim lay ahead, and the fifties was his most successful decade. His career continued into the eighties.

There was A Wonderful Life, the Hitchcock films, including Vertigo and Reor Window, Horvey, Anotomy of o Murder, and many more.

Jimmy Stewart was a trustee of Princeton University, a job he took very seriousiy. But he did not attend many Reunions, and this bothered his father, a graduate of the Class of 1898.

In a clip of the actor on the Johnny Carson show in 1982, Stewart talks about his father calling him when he left for work. This was 7 a.m. in indiana, Pa., Stewart's home town, but 4 a.m. in Califomia.

"You're a lousy aium," his father would teli him each time Reunions rolied around and the actor didn't go. When Stewart's 40th reunion was approaching, his father made his usual early-morning call and said, "If you miss your 40th reunion, you're doomed."

Jimmy Stewart made sure to be there.

One of the iast cilps of the evening was the actor performing a 1910 Princeton cheer on the Johnny Carson show, some 50 years after his graduation. Clearly he hadn't forgotten it.

And Monday night, Princeton showed that it hadn't forgotten Jimmy Stewart.

Composers' Ensemble To Present New Works

On Tuesday evening, April 14, at 8 p.m. The Composers' Ensemble at Princeton will present a concert of new works by four second-year graduate students in composition in Taplin Auditorium in Fine Hall.

Known informally as "The Generals Concert," the works on the program are composed in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the M.F.A. in Composition.

The new works include Six More Little Pieces for Piono ond Guitor by Robert Bowen; Mary Wright's multimedia piece shesow, shesees, sheshe; Dan Cooper's Five Chopin Remixes; and Virgil Moorefield's Downtown Local (Watch the Closing Doors), performed by the composer and the Talujon Percussion Quartet.

As is traditional with this annual concert, each of the compositions will be in reaction to a work by another composer, and the program will include performances of music by Chopin, Schoenberg, and others, including a performance of Edgard Varèse's Ionisation by the 13-member Percussion Ensemble of The College of New Jersey, conducted by Mr. Moorefield.

The program is sponsored by the Department of Music and The Friends of Music at Princeton. The general public is invited to attend without charge. Taplin Auditorium is located in Fine Hall, near the corner of Washington Road and Ivy Lane.

Trinity Church to Offer Bach's "Leipzig Chorales"

Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street, will present organist Scott Dettra, performing Johann Sebastian Bach's "Leipzig Chorales" on Wednesday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m.

Fuma Sacra, a professional vocal ensemble, will assist in the singing of each chorale, and Nancianne Parrella will play chamber organ to accompany Fuma Sacra. Admission is free.

The "Leipzig Chorales" are a set of organ pieces based on Lutheran hymn tunes that were in use in Bach's time. Fuma Sacra will sing each hymn (from the front of the church) before the corresponding organ chorale is performed (from the back of the church). The "Leipzig Chorales" are revisions Bach made late in life to works he had composed earlier. In that way, they represent some of his most mature and interesting writing.

Scott Dettra, organist, has performed to wide acclaim in this country and abroad. A graduate of Westminster Choir College, he is currently pursuing a Master's degree there. He has served as Associate Organist of Trinity Church, Princeton, since 1994.

YOUTH THEATRE AT PEDDIE: The Peddie School Youth Theatre Series will close its ninth season with "The Swiss Family Robinson" on Saturday, April 18, at 2 p.m. at the Richard L. Swig Arts Center at the school, which is located on South Main Street in Hightstown.

P.U. Concert Choir Plans to Perform Mendelssohn Oratorio

The Princeton University Concert Choir and the Concerto Soloists Orchestra of Philadelphia, under the direction of Richard Tang Yuk, will perform Mendelssohn's oratorio Elijah, at Richardson Auditorium, Princeton, on Saturday, April 18 at 8 p.m. Soloists for the oratorio will be bass Kevin Deas in the title role of Elijah, with tenor Robert Baker, mezzo-soprano Barbara Rearick and soprano Dawn Waggener.

The Princeton University Concert Choir (Glee Club) is the oldest singing group in existence at Princeton, founded in 1874. In recent years, the choir has presented such choral works as the St. Motthew Passion, Mozart Requiem, Stravinsky's Oedipus Rex, and Haydn's Creation. Under the direction of Mr. Yuk, the choir has embarked on international concert tours, visiting Eastern Europe this past summer, with plans to visit Puerto Rico in June 1998, and Asia in June 1999.

The Princeton University concert choir's performance of Elijah marks the final concert of its 1997-1998 season. Premiered in 1846, Mendelssohn's oratorio quickly became a favorite of audiences all over the world. The text, taken exclusively from the Old Testament, was adapted from the Lutheran Bible by William Bartholomew, who had already translated many works for Mendelssohn.

Bass Kevin Deas, in addition to being a teacher in the Princeton University Music Department, has recently sung in Gershwin's Porgy and Bess and Verdi's Requiem, and recorded Bach's B Minor Mass. Mezzo-soprano Barbara Rearick is also a member of the Music Department at Princeton. A versatile performer, Ms. Rearick has performed such works as Bach's Contata No. 12 and has also released a CD singing duets with guitarist Richard Jacobowski.

Soprano Cynthia Dawn Waggener has performed several other oratorios, including Bach's St. John and St. Matthew Passion, and Mozart's Mass in C Minor. Tenor Robert Baker is returning to Princeton University after singing the title role in Stravinsky's Oedipus Rex last season.

For tickets, call 258-5000. General admission is $12.

Rutgers Company Stages "The Grapes of Wrath"

The John Steinbeck novel that defined a watershed moment in American history is faithfully adapted in the Tony Award-winning play The Gropes of Wroth, which will be performed by the Rutgers Theater Company Wednesdays through Sundays, through April 26 in the Philip J. Levin Theater, George Street, Douglass College, New Brunswick. For information and tickets call (732) 932-7511.

The critically acclaimed Stepenwolf Company adaptation by Frank Galati was first seen on Broadway with Gary Sinise and Louis Smith in the leading roles. The Gropes of Wroth tells the story of the Joad family's migration from the Oklahoma Dust Bowl to the "Promised Land" of California.

In stark and moving detail, John Steinbeck depicts the lives of ordinary people striving to preserve their humanity in the face of social and economic desperation.

Performances are Wednesday through Saturday at 8 p.m., and Sunday at 2 p.m. Performances are suspended April 10 to 12. Tickets are $20 for opening night, Friday, April 3; $18 for Friday and Saturday; $16 for Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday performances; and $14 for the Thursday preview.

"THE GRAPES OF WRATH" AT RUTGERS: The John Steinbeck novel that defined a watershed moment in American history is adapted in the play, "The Grapes of Wrath," at the Philip J. Levin Theater in New Brunswick. Aimee Jolson portrays Ma and Christian Conn plays Tom Joad.

Ensemble Corund to Sing At University Chapel

The Ensemble Corund, a professional choir from Lucerne, Switzerland, will present a concert program entitled "Eros and Agape: Five Centuries of Love in Sacred Music" at the Princeton University Chapel on Tuesday, April 14 at 8 p.m. This is the group's first tour in the United States. It is one of only three such professional groups in German-speaking Switzerland.

The program of unaccompanied music will explore the many facets of love as found in the sacred choral literature of Renaissance composers John Taverner, Thomas Tomkins, and G.P. da Palestrina, and 20th-century composers such as Najl Hakim, William Mathias, Maurice Durufle and Thuring Bram.

Author's First Play Due at Theatre Intime

F.O.B. Fresh off the Boot, the first play written by David Henry Hwang, will be presented by Theatre Intime on April 16 and 18 and April 23 to 25. The author also wrote M. Butterfly and Broadway's current Golden Child. F.O.B received an Obie award in New York City.

Directed by Dale Ho '99, the play is an exploration of modern-day Chinese immigrants' interaction with second-generation Chinese-Americans. Set in the breezy California of the disco era, the play swerves from the serious to the playful, from college-age characters out looking for a date to their alter egos of Chinese mythological figures.

F.O.B. is being produced in conjunction with the University's recognition of Asian-Pacific American Heritage Month. Performances are at 8 p.m. In addition, there will be one matinee performance at 2 p.m. on Sunday, April 19.

Tickets are $10; $8 for faculty, staff, and senior citizens; $5 for students.

For reservations, call 258-4950.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD GALA: Princeton residents Liz Fillo and Richard Trenner meet to finalize plans for the annual spring gala to benefit the Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area. The event will be held on April 16, at the Forrestal, starting at noon.

Clubs & Organizations

Planned Parenthood To Hold Choice Luncheon

The Honorable Thomas H. Kean will address Planned Parenthood supporters at a "Choice Luncheon" on April 16, at the Forestal Hotel and Conference Center.

During his tenure as Governor from 1982-1990, Tom Kean achieved a national reputation for being a socially responsible politician, a judicious "moderate" and a man of conscience. His efforts to improve people's lives in highly tangible ways included for example, being the first New Jersey governor to allocate significant state resources to family planning, and implementing Health-Start, a widely emulated state program that provides critical health education, nutritional guidance and social services to pregnant women.

Proceeds from the luncheon will benefit Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area, a non-profit organization, providing a full range of reproductive health services to women in Mercer County.

A reception to meet Mr. Kean will begin at 11:30, luncheon will be served at 12:30 and the program will begin at 1. Tickets for the benefit are between $75 and $1000. For further information, call 599-4881.

Paul Donnelly, executive director of the NJ Juvenile Justice Commission, will address members of the American Association of University Women, Princeton branch, at their meeting on April 14, at 7:30.

Mr. Donnelly will discuss initiatives undertaken by the commission during the past two years.

The meeting will be held at the Stark & Stark law firm in Lawrence, 993 Lenox Drive. For more information, call 275-8050.

The Princeton Recorder Society will meet on April 14 at the Kingston Presbyterian Church, Main Street, Kingston. Players should assemble at 7:45, in order to begin at 8.

Pete Rose, one of America's leading performers of 20th century recorder music, will conduct the players in "Salvageable Movements" — selections taken from a number of sources.

The Princeton Recorder Society, with approximately 70 members, usually meets on the second Tuesday of the month, September through May, at the Kingston Presbyterian Church. Each meeting is led by a different conductor; a variety of music from the early to the modern era is played.

For more information about the chapter or the meeting on April 14, call chapter president Kiyomi Camp at 908-874-3672.

The Women's College Club of Princeton will hold its annual bridge benefit and silent auction on Monday, April 20, from 11:30 to 3:30 at the Present Day Club, 72 Stockton Street. Funds raised are applied to the club's college scholarship fund.

Featured will be a door prize, silent auction, white elephant table, and lunch. The cost is $25 per person.

For reservations, send a $25 check, payable to Women's College Club of Princeton, to Mrs. Stephen Savat, 3 Coach Drive, Lawrenceville 08648. For more information, call Miriam Savat, at 896-2398.

The next meeting of the Jersey Purls will be on Wednesday, April 15.

The Jersey Purls, a local chapter of The Knitting Guild of America, meets the third Wednesday of each month from 7:30 to 9 at the West Windsor Branch of the Mercer County Library. The guild offers guidance, pattern exchange, problem-solving clinics and the camaraderie of other knitters.

For directions and more information about he guild, call 443-3744.

New Art Gallery Will Open Tuesday On Witherspoon St.

A new art gallery, specializing in the art of folklore and fantasy from around the world, will open on Witherspoon Street on April 14.

The primary focus of the Firebird Gallery, 15 Witherspoon Street, will be original paintings by Russian and American artists. Poster-sized prints and children's books will also be on display, according to owner Tatiana Popova.

ARTISTIC DETAIL: This detail from an illustration for "The Crane's Wife" will be on display at the Firebird Gallery in May. The new gallery, featuring the art of folklore and fantasy, is scheduled to open on Witherspoon Street, April 14.

ART

Ms. Popova was one of the partners in the Unicorn Gallery, opened last year on Nassau Street during the holiday season.

This month the Firebird Gallery will show the work of Gennady Spirin, whose illustrations in more than 25 children's books have earned him a world-wide reputation. Four of his books won the New York Times award for "Best Illustrated Book of the Year."

Mr. Spirin's work has been reproduced on Christmas plates by the Franklin Mint; and last December, Saks Fifth Avenue based its Christmas window display on Mr. Spirin's Nutcracker.

In its first exhibition, the gallery will present a retrospective of 40 works that have not been seen in Princeton before — original pieces from 12 children's classics.

Illustrations for The Nose the witty fable by the Russian master of the short story, poke fun at the pretentiousness of minor officials in turn-of-the-century St. Petersburg.

The haunting Irish legend, The Children of Lir inspired some of Mr. Spirin's most lyrical illustrations, which will also be on display. The New York Society of Illustrators bestowed its Gold Medal on this work.

Mr. Spirin has also produced illustrations for George Sand's The Mysterious Tale of Gentle Jack and Lord Bumblebee, a fantasy in which a mysterious Lord Bumblebee offers to train Gentle Jack in magic, are reminiscent of Botticelli and other early Italian Renaissance masters, according to Ms. Popova.

An original modern fairy tale in the traditional style, The Tale of the Unicorn tells of three brothers who set out to capture a unicorn. Mr. Spirin's luminous illustrations contrast with realistic scenes of medieval village life — identifiably based on the historic town of Esslingen, Germany.

Illustrations for two Russian folk tales, Sorotchintsy Fair and The Fool and the Fish are also part of the exhibit.

In May, original paintings used to illustrate the Japanese fairy tale, The Crane's Wife, to be published by Harcourt Brace next fall, will be on display in the gallery; and in June, during the University's reunion week, the gallery will exhibit Mr. Spirin's painting of the campus.

The gallery will be open Tuesday through Sunday, from 11 to 5, or by appointment. For more information, call 688-0775.

Art Consultant Opens Gallery on Route 206

Lorraine Skidmore of Skidmore Art Consultants has opened a new gallery at her showroom location, One Airport Place, on Route 206.

New work by Patricia Davis-Ganek, of Randolph, will be featured for the gallery's first show, which began April 5. The exhibition includes a lively collection of still lifes, abstract painting, and abstracted landscapes.

Ms. Davis-Ganek employs wide brush strokes and gestures. She often incorporates randomly-placed tissue paper and gauze into her works. These elements are painted over and become a textural element of the overall composition.

The artist's still lifes are bold compositions painted without any apparent regard for scale or perspective. Pleasing to the eye, the acrylic paintings become studies in composition.

Ms. Davis-Ganek says she is "strongly influenced by Matisse, drawn to his color and simplification of shapes; De Kooning's spontaneity and color; and Diebenkorn, his scratchy, expressive brush work, color, and composition.

"As I paint," the artist continues, "I am constantly thinking in terms of color and shape; subject matter is always secondary."

The work of Ms. Ganek-Davis is in many corporate and private collections, including that of Rutgers University.

The exhibition at Skidmore Art Consultants will remain through May 8. Gallery hours are 1-4 on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and by appointment.

For more information about Skidmore Art Consultants or the gallery, call 924-1875.

Local Photography Show Is Arts Council Benefit

The photography of Leona M. Law, art teacher at Timberlane School in Pennington, will be on exhibit at Drinker, Biddle & Reath LLP, 105 College Road East, through May 29.

The show, "Stones I Have Known," is presented in conjunction with the Arts Council of Princeton, which will benefit from a portion of any sales proceeds.

The holder of an M.F.A. degree in photography from Marywood University, Ms. Law has travelled extensively to capture images of people and their environments. Her photographs have appeared in many travel articles and exhibitions.

Ms. Law says of her work, "I am particularly fascinated by the impact of natural stone on cultures through the ages and its use in mythological and religious artifacts."

For more information, call the Arts Council, 924-8777, or Drinker, Biddle & Reath, 716-6551.

Exhibits

Artist Carol Critchlow will show paintings and drawings at the University League, 171 Broadmead, in an exhibition entitled "The Sky, the Trees, the People," scheduled to open April 19. There will be an opening reception from 2 to 4.

Ms. Critchlow, an honors graduate of Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, has exhibited both locally and internationally. She describes her current career as "art — fine, medium, and coarse." Her work ranges from mural art to delicate portraiture and calligraphy, which she teaches at the adult level.

She is employed by Artistic Realization Technologies, as a "tracker," using techniques devised by artist Tim Lefens to help those with severe physical limitation to create art.

Ms. Critchlow comments, "Although I'm firmly tied to representational painting, working with the cerebral palsy students and Tim has reminded me of the formal, elemental power of abstraction."

For more information about gallery hours, call the University League at 258-3650; call the artist, at 497-9159, for a private viewing. The exhibit will run through June 30.

1860 House Professional Artists Group members Jane Adriance, Connie Gray, and Darlene Prestbo will exhibit their work in the 1860 House Upstairs Gallery.

The exhibit will remain through April 30. Gallery hours are Tuesdays through Fridays, from 10 to 3. Exhibiting artists will be present during Sunday gallery hours, from 12 noon to 4.

NEED AN EARLY COPY of TOWN TOPICS? You can buy one at our office 4 Mercer Street, or at Princeton newsstands Wednesday mornings after 9 a.m.

FAMILIAR STONE: This photo by Leona Law, entitled "Welsh Cairn," is part of an exhibit, "Stones I Have Known," that will be at Drinker, Biddle & Reath, 105 College Road East, through May 29. Proceeds will benefit the Arts Council of Princeton. For more information, call the Council at 924-8777.

Tiger Lacrosse Struggles Again, But Beats Brown, Men's and Women's Crew Have Easier Time Winning

Ask the players on Princeton's men's lacrosse team about the slow starts that have plagued them all season, and they'll tell you it's not how you start that matters — it's how you finish.

After all, the Tigers have overcome early lapses to win five of their six games this spring, including Saturday's 9-6 victory over Brown.

But don't tell the women's lacrosse team that a strong start doesn't matter. In its two games this past weekend, the team that came out hot finished with a win, as the Tigers fell 9-4 to Virginia on Friday night before rebounding to top Cornell 14-3 on Sunday.

Friday's loss to Virginia was the only blemish on an otherwise stellar weekend for teams in orange and black. Princeton swept its competition in softball and tennis, racked up wins in three varsity crew races, and placed second in a women's lightweight crew race held in San Diego.

A busy three days for the Tiger lacrosse squads — both ranked among the nation's top three teams — highlighted a weekend in which Princeton also swept its competition in softball, crew, and tennis.

Forget that Brown's men's lacrosse team entered Saturday's contest in Providence, R.I., with an unflattering 1-5 record, while Princeton boasted a 4-1 mark and a No. 3 national ranking.

Bruins Always Tough

Year after year, Princeton has found its toughest Ivy League challenge in Brown, the only team besides Princeton to capture a league title since 1990. Saturday's game was no different.

The Bears jumped out to a 3-0 advantage in the first 5:02 and didn't allow Princeton its first lead until late in the second quarter, when a pair of goals by sophomore sensation Josh Sims turned a 6-5 deficit into a 7-6 edge for the Tigers.

That was all the scoring head coach Bill Tierney's defense would need, shutting out the Bears for the entire second half. Insurance goals by Lorne Smith and Seamus Grooms helped Princeton escape with a 9-6 victory and improve to 5-1 overall (2-0 Ivy League).

The slow start and strong finish were nothing new for the 1998 Tigers, who have outscored their opponents by a narrow 36-29 margin in the first half and by 44-16 in the second half.

Sims, Smith and Chris Massey notched two goals apiece for the Tigers, who got uncharacteristically quiet games from All-America attackmen Jesse Hubbard (one goal) and Jon Hess (two assists). After three years of scoring almost at will, opposing teams seem determined to shut down Hess, Hubbard and Massey, and force Old Nassau to rely on others for scoring.

Thanks to Syracuse's first loss of the year, an 18-15 defeat at the hands of Loyola Saturday, Princeton moved up one place to No. 2 in the USILA coaches' poll, trailing only unbeaten Maryland. The Tigers will carry that ranking to Cambridge next weekend for a battle with Harvard, currently tied with Princeton at the top of the Ivy League standings.

The Crimson, 5-2, is the only other team ranked in the top 20. It has beaten Cornell and Penn in the league, in addition to Holy Cross, Boston College and Vermont, but lost to Hobart and Duke. Princeton's next home contest will be Saturday, April 18 against Cornell.

Women Fall to Virgina

Princeton's second-ranked women also had a chance to move up in the national rankings, although they didn't know it at the time of their Friday matchup with No. 5 Virginia. North Carolina, which sat atop the Intercollegiate Women's Lacrosse Coaches Association poll, would stumble against No. 10 William & Mary on Saturday, leaving the top spot open for the taking.

But the Tigers' hopes of claiming that spot were shattered by one player: Virginia's Peggy Boutilier. The Cavaliers' star midfielder netted two goals in the game's first 2:27 and had five by halftime to outscore the entire Princeton squad and make the Tigers play catch-up for most of their 9-4 loss.

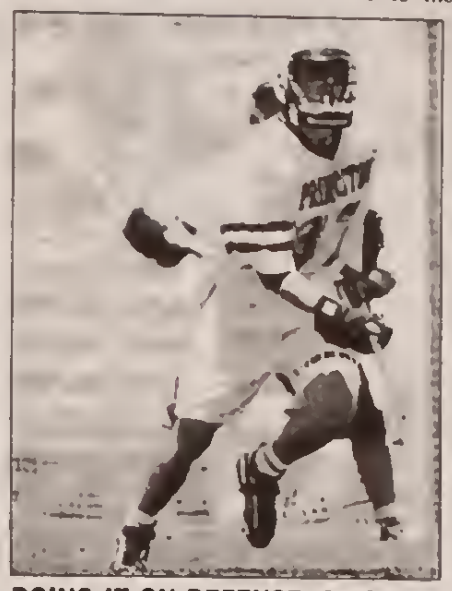
Julie Shaner, Cristi Samaras, Melissa Cully, and Christy Riordan scored for Princeton in its first setback of the season. Virginia also handed the men's lacrosse team its only loss a month ago.

"It was definitely a tough loss for us Friday," Sailer said. "We had to regroup, come out hard and get our confidence back."

Less than five minutes into Sunday's matchup with Cornell at Class of 1952 Stadium, Sailer's players had left little doubt they had regained their confidence. Five Princeton goals in the game's first 4:26 gave the Tigers a 5-0 lead en route to their 14-3 win. The Big Red seemed a step too slow all afternoon to contain Princeton's offensive players.

Especially Samaras. Held to just one goal by Virginia on Friday, the junior exploded for four goals and four assists Sunday against Cornell. With 38 points through seven games, Samaras is on pace to shatter the university's single-season points record of 72 — a mark she set in 1996 before taking last year off from school.

With North Carolina and Princeton each suffering their first defeats of the season, the top 10 currently features five teams with only one loss. The Tigers, now 6-1 overall (2-0 Ivy League) face one of those squads, No. 7 Temple, when they travel to Philadelphia this Wednesday.



DOING IT ON DEFENSE: Senior co-captain Christian Cook spearheaded a defensive effort that kept Brown off the scoreboard for the entire second half of Saturday's game in Providence.

Homers Power Softball

Just 23 games into her freshman season, Princeton softball's Devon Keefe belted her second home run Saturday in the fourth inning of the first game of a doubleheader at Temple.

Two innings later, Wendy Herm followed with a three-run blast — the first in a 126-game career for the junior first baseman.

The two homers powered Princeton to a 7-1 victory in the first game of a doubleheader sweep of Temple. After yielding a run in the first, pitcher Lynn Miller was almost perfect the rest of the way, retiring 19 of the last 21 batters to earn her eighth win of the spring.

In the second game, three Temple errors helped Princeton score five runs in the second inning on just one hit, as Sarah Peterman pitched the Tigers to a 6-2 victory.

The Tigers, winners of five straight to improve to 14-10 on the season, open their Ivy League season this weekend with doubleheaders at Cornell and Pennsylvania.

Crew Cruises on Carnegie

Fast currents on the Raritan River from recent rain forced the men's heavyweight and women's open crews to move their race from nearby Rutgers to Princeton's Lake Carnegie, and the Tigers took advantage of their home course to record a pair of comfortable victories.

The men's heavyweights opened up a huge lead on Rutgers and cruised to a 15-second victory, while the women's open crew beat Rutgers and Columbia by 10 and 12 seconds, respectively. Princeton's men's lightweights also had an easy afternoon of it on Lake Carnegie, finishing 11 seconds ahead of Georgetown in its race.

Across the country, the women's lightweights advanced to the championship race at the San Diego Crew Classic before finishing second to Radcliffe, the top-ranked crew in the nation, by 2.4 seconds.

With an 8-1 pounding of defending league champion Brown and a 7-2 win at Yale, the women's tennis team improved to a perfect 4-0 in Ivy League play (12-2 overall). Men's tennis also swept their Ivy rivals this past weekend, edging Brown and Yale by identical 4-3 scores to move to 3-1 in the league and 9-7 overall.

The men's and women's track and field teams hosted their first meet Saturday at the brand-new Weaver Stadium, a state-of-the-art facility adjoining the football stadium under construction. Twenty schools sent runners to compete in the unscored Sam Howell Memorial Invitational, named for a former athletic director of the University.

Freshman Julia Allison won the Boston College Invitational as the women's golf team finished fourth overall.

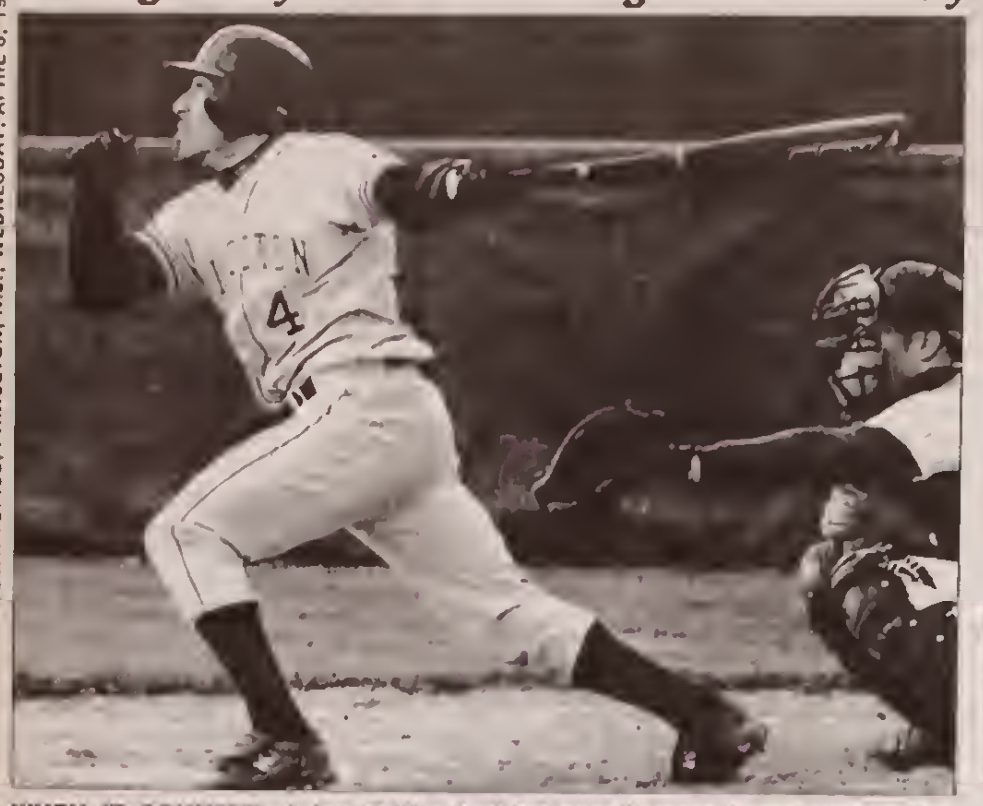
Tight Tigers Loosen Up after Ivy Opener, Taking Early Lead in Gehrig Division Play



WHEN IT COUNTED: Asher Griffin had hit exactly zero home runs in his Princeton career entering the seventh and final inning of Sunday's first game against Dartmouth, but the senior shortstop came through with the big blast when it was most needed. He belted a solo shot over the right field fence to give Princeton a 3-2 win.

After an Ivy League opener that had them looking, in the words of coach Scott Bradley, "as though we'd never played baseball before," the Tiger nine buckled down to win three straight, going 3-1 in this weekend's meetings with Harvard and Dartmouth.

Princeton lost 6-3 in the front end of a doubleheader against defending Ivy champion Harvard on Saturday, but rallied to whip the Crimson 10-2 in the nightcap. On Sunday, Princeton edged Dartmouth 2-1 in the opener, and then scored in every inning on the way to a 10-4 win in the second game.

After the Dartmouth doubleheader, coach Scott Bradley said that he felt the team had been a little too excited about opening the Ivy season against Harvard — the team that last year unseated the Tigers as defending League champs. "We were so keyed up yesterday, and you can't play baseball like that. We acted like it was a football game: guys were all jumping up and down, and we threw the ball all over the place."

Senior right-hander Bryan Stroh started the opener against the Crimson, and pitched three scoreless innings before getting into serious trouble in the fourth. The Crimson put four runs on the board in the fourth, and Bradley replaced Stroh with junior righty Howard Horn with two outs. Stroh left the contest having allowed four runs on seven hits, with two walks and five strikeouts.

The Crimson touched Horn for a pair of runs in the fifth, but the Salt Lake City native shut them down over the remaining two innings, finishing with two runs allowed (one earned) on three hits, one walk, and five strikeouts.

At the plate, the Tigers never solved Harvard starter Andrew Duffel, scattering only five hits and scoring three runs.

A Little Revenge

Tim Killgoar was on the mound last Spring when the Crimson ripped Princeton 22-4 in the third and deciding game of the Ivy League Championship series. The southpaw from Dedham, Mass. got a little revenge in Saturday's second game, allowing the Crimson one run on six hits over six complete innings to take his first win of the season. Killgoar struck out five and walked one. Ben Matsil allowed a run on two hits in one inning of relief.

While Killgoar was sticking it to the Crimson on the mound, his teammates did the same at the plate. The Tiger batters knocked starter Garrett Vail out of the game with five runs over the first three innings. The three in the third came courtesy of a three-run home run by freshman Andrew Hanson (2-for-3, two runs scored, three RBIs), who sent a two-strike change-up over the right field fence.

Senior shortstop Justin Griffin cranked a solo homer over the fence in the third inning on his way to a 2-for-3 performance with two runs scored and one RBI. Sophomore Jay Mitchell was 1-for-3 with a two-run single in the second inning.

Dartmouth Swept

In the opener against Dartmouth, it looked as though the Tiger bats had gone to sleep again. Princeton left two runners on base in the bottom of the first inning on a Hanson strikeout, and did not get a credible scoring chance again until the fourth, when Mitchell filed out with two out and two on.

In the meanwhile, senior left-hander Joe Machado was turning in a masterful

The George W. Ball Annual Lecture

Post–Cold War Security Threats

by

Anthony Lake

Former National Security Adviser, Clinton Administration

Anthony Lake, currently the Distinguished Professor in the Practice of Diplomacy at Georgetown University, served as national security adviser to President Clinton from 1993 to 1996. A graduate of the doctoral and masters programs at the Woodrow Wilson School, Lake earlier had a distinguished career in the State Department, serving as vice consul in Saigon and Hue (1963–65) and as an aide to Henry Kissinger (1969–70). He later returned to the State Department as director of policy planning (1977–81). Lake then began an academic career as the Five College Professor in International Relations at Mount Holyoke College (1981–92).

The George W. Ball Lectures honor the former undersecretary of state, who chaired the Woodrow Wilson School's Advisory Council for many years.

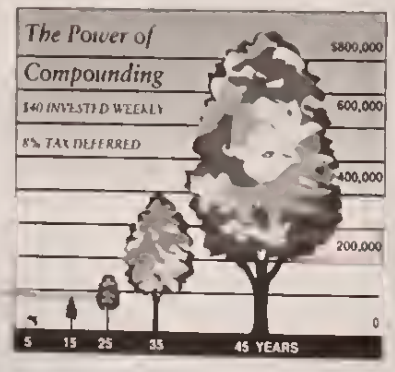
Are you or your family saving enough for a secure financial future?

Merrill Lynch is sponsoring workshops during National Saving Month℠.

According to our research, millions of Americans aren't saving enough to enjoy their cherished dreams of owning a home, funding a child's education or living a comfortable and secure retirement.

Which is why Merrill Lynch is proud to sponsor National Saving Month℠. And in our continuing effort to educate Americans on the importance of saving, your local office invites you to celebrate this event by attending a workshop.

We can help you develop a financial plan and offer ideas as simple as tax-deferred compounding. This chart shows that, by saving as little as $40 a week for 30 years, you could have as much as a quarter of a million dollars.*



So in celebration of National Saving Month, during April, contact your local Merrill Lynch office listed below and start saving. And be sure to visit us on our Merrill Lynch website: http://www.ml.com and look for the Family Saving Center.

The difference is planning.

The difference is Merrill Lynch.

performance on the mound. Machado allowed only four hits over his six complete innings, walking only one batter and striking out one.

Princeton finally put a run on the board in the bottom of the sixth, when senior center fielder Mike Hazen singled, stole second, and scored on a single to left field by freshman Max Krance.

Machado had tired in the sixth, and Bradley replaced him with Ben Smith in the top of the seventh. Smith allowed a run on two hits to send the Tigers into the final half-inning in a 1-1 tie.

The Griffin brothers led off the inning, and after Justin struck out, second baseman Asher stepped to the plate and slugged an inside fastball over the right field fence to win the game for the Tigers.

"He'd been throwing me inside fastballs all day," said the senior from Eatontown. "I took a little step back, thinking he'd come in again. Things worked out." Griffin's home run was the first he has hit in a Princeton uniform, and his only homer since the first game of his senior year in high school.

"For Ash to hit a big time home run like that," said Bradley, "that gives you the kind of momentum that really carries over."

The carry-over effect was obvious in the second game, as the Tigers rapped out 14 hits over 6½ innings to take the game easily. Freshman John Watterson was 3-for-4 with a double, two runs scored, and an RBI. Another freshman, catcher Casey Hildreth, ripped doubles in the second and third innings, going 2-for-4 with two runs scored and one RBI. Matt Evans was 2-for-3 with a double, a run scored, and two RBIs.

Sophomore right-hander Jason Quintana gave the Tigers five excellent innings before getting into big trouble in the top of the sixth. He had allowed one run on three hits entering the inning, but when the Big Green loaded the bases and then cleared them on a long double with no outs, Bradley dipped his hand into the Tiger bullpen.

He came out with junior righty Jeff Golden, who struck out the first man he faced and ended the inning on a grounder to the mound and a fly ball to center field. Golden struck out his first man in the seventh, and after allowing a single, closed out the contest with consecutive come-backers to the mound.

Surprises Around League

If you thought the pre-Ivy season was any indication of how teams would do when League play began, you were wrong: Dartmouth came into this weekend with a 10-1 record, and limped home at the bottom of the Rolfe Division, having gone 0-4 against Princeton and Cornell. Brown, on the other hand, entered the weekend with a dismal 2-17 mark, and then swept Penn and split with Columbia to go home tied with Harvard and Yale at 3-1 in the Rolfe.

Penn entered the weekend with a 4-0 mark, having swept Columbia in two early doubleheaders, but ended it at 4-4. Yale and Brown engineered unlikely sweeps of the Quakers to give the Tigers a big boost in the running for a third consecutive Gehrig Division title.

Columbia wasted no time in getting to the bottom of the Gehrig Division, and does not look to improve much on its 2-6 League record. Cornell, 2-2 after its opening weekend, remains a threat.

Princeton plays a doubleheader at Brown on Friday and another at Yale on Saturday. The Tigers were scheduled to play against Route 206 rival Rider University on Tuesday, too late for this issue. Princeton's next home game is at 3 p.m. on Thursday April 16, against St. Peter's.

NO DECISION: Tiger pitcher Joe Machado got a no decision as thanks for allowing one run on four hits in his six inning start on Sunday. A Dartmouth run in the seventh cost Machado the win, which went to reliever Ben Smith. (Bill Allen/NJ SportAction photo)

MORE POWER is what the Princeton High tennis team's first singles player Scott Willig brings to the team for his second year in the top slot. Willig, a sophomore, lost in three sets to Hun's Rip Rice last week, but there are plenty of wins on the horizon.

PHS Tops Hun in Tennis, But Rice Beats Willig

The PHS tennis team stopped the Hun School 4-1 in the season opener for both squads last week, but junior Rip Rice provided a bright spot for the Raiders by knocking off the Tigers' talented first singles player Scott Willig.

Rice took the first set 6-3, only to see Willig storm back to win the second 2-6. Rice was able to reverse the score in the final set, stopping Willig 6-2 to take Hun's only win of the day.

At second singles, Princeton's Eyal Shnaps stopped Dan Weinstein 6-3, 7-6 (12-10). Adam Goldfarb beat Andy Saltman 6-2, 6-3 at thirds.

Corey Sherman and John Turner dropped their first doubles match to Princeton High's Chris Prevost and Peter Pine 6-2, 6-1. Brian Lau and Aaron Krauss beat Nick Rounds and Kevin Wong 6-1, 6-3 at second doubles.

Princeton is not scheduled to play again until Tuesday, April 14, when it faces Hamilton, away, at 4 p.m. The Raiders play Solebury on the road Thursday, and Lawrenceville, also on the road, on Tuesday.

Raider Softball 2-1 After Opening Week

The Hun softball team opened its season in fine form last week, drubbing visiting Peddie by an 11-1 score. Erin Cahill, on the mound for the Raiders, allowed a single run in the first inning, then settled down and pitched a one-hitter the rest of the way.

Her teammates supported her with a nine-run first inning explosion that left Peddie reeling. Keri Marino was only one of the Raiders who registered big offensive performances, going 2-for-3 with two RBIs. Jen Miller had three RBIs, and Erica Rosenthal had two.

The Raiders were on the losing end of a 9-6 score against Nottingham on Saturday. The host Northstars ripped Cahill for nine runs on nine hits.

Lindsay McQuade doubled and drove in a pair of runs for Hun.

Hun got another scare from a CVC squad on Monday, but rallied from a 3-2 deficit in the final inning of play, using a seven-run burst to beat Lawrence High. Cahill improved to 2-1, as did the team as a whole. Once again, McQuade led the offense with two RBIs.

The Raiders host Kent Place on Wednesday, at 4 p.m., and visit Pennington on Friday for another 4 p.m. contest.

SERVICE: Hun's Corey Sherman serves during the Raiders' meeting with Princeton High School on Friday. Sherman and partner John Turner fell to the Princeton High first doubles team 6-2, 6-1.

opened at home against WW-P and crushed the Pirates. Tierney pumped in a team-high five goals, and Mack and Frank Ventresca scored three apiece. The Raiders were up 9-0 at the half, and only let up in the final quarter. In goal, Fran Cattani and Alex Powers combined for the shutout.

The story against Cardoza was much the same: Tierney scored three and a host of Raider players scored two each, to give the Judges a lot to think about on the long ride home. Cattani and Powers once again combined for the goose egg.

"I think the easy games are done with from here on out," Czelusniak told his players after the Cardoza game.

Hun played Voorhees on Tuesday, too late for this issue. On Thursday, the Raiders travel to Blair Academy for a 4 p.m. game. Hun's next home game will come on Tuesday, April 14, against cross-town Bianchi Division rival Princeton High School.

PDS Softball Walloped 21-0 by Pennington

Opening day for the Princeton Day softball team was one the Panthers would just as soon forget as quickly as possible.

The Panthers gave up nine runs in the first inning, 10 in the second and lost 21-0 to Pennington. The game was mercifully stopped after just four and a half innings. On top of that, the Blue and White was held hitless by Pennington pitcher Kristine Fankhouser.

This week PDS was scheduled to face Gill St. Bernard's on Tuesday, and will not play again until Wardlaw-Hartridge on Wednesday, April 15.

Raider Lax Opens 2-1; Tough Games Looming

After opening the season with a disappointing 12-9 loss to a strong Moorestown squad, the Raider boys' lacrosse team took out its frustrations on hapless West Windsor-Plainsboro 14-0 and Cardoza High School, of New York City 18-0.

"We were all very disappointed with the way the Moorestown game went," said coach Steve Czelusniak on Monday. "They're a good team. We made a lot of mistakes and they capitalized on them."

Hun fell behind 8-3 in the first half, and in spite of outscoring the host squad 6-4 in the second, was unable to close the gap. Max Wright had a hat trick for the Raiders, and Brendan Tierney and Brian Giordano scored two apiece. Scoring single goals for Hun were Josh Mack and Topher Lawton.

Two days later, the Raiders

TWICE WAS NOT ENOUGH: PDS'S Pat Holmes, shown here trying to get by a Pingry defenseman, scored twice as did two other Panther players, but the Panthers fell 9-6 to Big Blue.

PDS Lacrosse Begins With Win and Loss

The Princeton Day lacrosse team opened its 1998 season last week with a 13-7 triumph over George School in Newton, PA, and a 11-10 loss to Pingry at home.

The Panthers, who have won the Prep B championship, the last four years, were scheduled to play their first "B" division opponent, Pennington, this past Tuesday. Following that will be a contest Thursday, April 9 against West Windsor-Plainsboro.

The victory against George School a week ago Tuesday wasn't sealed until the fourth quarter. After taking a 3-0 lead in the first period, the Panthers frittered the advantage away over the next two periods, and found themselves in a 5-5 tie at the end of three.

But in the final 12 minutes they exploded for eight goals, while limiting the home team to just one. Chris Wescott, one of the leading scorers from last year, started the season with a bang, tallying seven times. He was joined in the scoring column by six other players, Carl Rohrbach, Joe Nemiroff, Erinc Sen, John Dorazio, John O'Hara and Pat Holmes. PDS outshot George, 24-17, goalie Alex Potter had 10 saves.

Forty-eight hours later against Pingry, the Panthers got involved in a see-saw battle, but when the final whistle blew, it was Big Blue that was riding high. A goal by Pat Holmes gave PDS a 10-9 lead with 1:16 remaining, but, after going scoreless for the entire quarter, Pingry tallied twice in the final minute to pull out the victory.

Pingry led 4-3 at the end of one and 7-6 at the half. PDS tied up the score at 9-9 by the time the third period expired. Wescott, Dorazio, Rohrback and Holmes all tallied twice for the Blue and White, Adam Vigiano had one goal. PDS enjoyed a 24 to 19 edge in shots. Potter had 10 saves.

Hun Nine Club 'Ville, But Lose 8-0 to Hill

The Hun baseball team split its first two games of the season, ripping Lawrenceville 11-2 on Friday, and being ripped 8-0 by the Hill School one day later.

Hun fell behind briefly, when the Big Red took a 2-1 lead in the top of the second inning, but when senior captain Mike Piza smashed a two-run homer in the bottom of the frame, he ignited a six-run flame and the Larries were, well, toast.

Piza's co-captain, shortstop Geo Harris, was 2-for-2 on the day with a double, two runs scored, and one RBI. Left fielder Chris Monfiletto went 2-for-3 with two runs scored and two RBIs.

Post-grad hurler Alan Karafin got the win for Hun, lasting six innings and allowing two runs (neither earned) on six hits, one walk, and four strikeouts. Karafin was 1-for-4 at the plate with a double and an RBI. Kyle Metzler pitched one inning of one-hit scoreless relief.

The visiting Hill School brought pitcher Rick Thomas to Hun on Saturday, and could probably have left the rest of the squad at home. Thomas threw six innings of three-hit baseball, walking two and striking out eight on the way to the shutout victory.

The Hillies got a lot of help from the Raider pitching, earning more bases on balls (eleven) than hits (five). Luke Tozzi absorbed the loss for the Raiders, allowing three runs on three hits, seven walks, and two strikeouts over five innings.

Hun played Pennington on Tuesday, too late for this issue. The Raiders host Blair academy at 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday, and visit Peddie at 4 p.m. on Thursday. Princeton High will play host to the Raiders on Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Tough Start for Tigers: PHS Baseball Is 0-2

Princeton High enjoyed a brief 1-0 lead over McCorristin in the opening game of the Tiger baseball season last week, but the Mikes came back with a run in the bottom of the first and two more in the bottom of the second on the way to a 5-2 win.

Frank Bernazard scored both of Princeton's runs on a day when he went 1-for-3. Bennett Fisher was 1-for-2 with a double and an RBI. Center fielder Justin Miller was 2-for-3 with a double, and DH Mike Aprigliano was also 2-for-3.

Geoff Graydon got the start for PHS and allowed five runs on eight hits over five innings, with two walks and three strikeouts. His brother, Kevan Graydon, threw one inning of one-hit scoreless relief, striking out one.

The Tigers played South Hunterdon on Friday, and had to endure a disappointing loss. After battling back from a 2-0 deficit to tie the score, the Tigers watched the host Eagles push one more run across the plate in the bottom of the fifth inning to gain the eventual win.

Miller pitched a solid five innings, allowing three runs on seven hits, while walking two and striking out five. In relief, Mark Henry pitched a scoreless, one-hit sixth.

At the plate, Miller was 2-for-3. Geoff Graydon was 2-for-4 with an RBI and Jeff Mapps was 1-for-3 with a double and a run scored.

PHS Girls Fall 11-10 In Opening Slugfest

The PHS softball team had no problem with offensive production in the season opener against McCorristin last week, but unfortunately, the defense was a little too generous to the Lady Mikes. PHS pushed 10 runs across the plate, but allowed 11 to fall to 0-1.

After trailing by scores of 3-0 and 8-4, the Tigers got a five-run surge in the fifth inning to take a short-lived lead.

Princeton played Ewing on Tuesday, too late for this issue, and travels to Hopewell for an 11 a.m. game on Thursday. On Monday, the Tigers host Notre Dame at 11 a.m.

PH5 played Ewing on Tuesday, too late for this issue. On Thursday, PHS visits Hopewell for an 11 a.m. game, and on Monday, the Tigers play Notre Dame at 11 a.m., at home. Tuesday afternoon brings a 4 p.m. away game against local rival Hun.

PDS Girls Lacrosse 0-2 After 2 Opening Defeats

The Princeton Day girls lacrosse team opened its season with a pair of losses on the road last week, falling to Pingry, 15-8, and George School, 5-4.

Another road contest against West Windsor-Plainsboro was set for Tuesday, and the first home contest will be against Oak Knoll on Thursday.

In the opening game against Pingry last Friday, Big Blue pulled away from a 5-3 halftime lead, scoring 10 goals in the second half to just five for the Panthers. Lauren Welsh had a hat trick for PDS, Emily O'Hara tallied a pair, and Anne Jamieson, Robin Ackerman and Elizabeth Gordon, all scored once.

Welsh had another hat trick a day later against George and Jamieson added one, but PDS came up one goal short. The home team took a 5-1 lead in the first half, and never scored again, but PDS could manage just three after the intermission.

PDS Baseball Captures One of Three Contests

The Princeton Day baseball team lost to a pair of Colonial Valley Conference powers last week, but rebounded on Saturday to defeat Germantown Friends. The 1-2 Panthers were scheduled to face Gill St. Bernards this past Tuesday and Hunterdon Central on Wednesday.

The season's opener against McCorristin might have gone in PDS's favor if the teams had been able to play straight through from start to finish, but rain and lightning interrupted matters. Midway through the fourth inning, PDS had a 6-0 lead, but the Panthers never scored again, and the home team came up with nine runs in the last three innings for its 9-6 victory.

And PDS wasn't exactly knocking the cover off the ball. The Blue and White managed just five singles, and all of its runs were unearned thanks to three errors by the Iron Mikes. Brian McKittish pitched the first four innings, allowing two unearned runs on four hits. He was relieved by Rob Paun, who might have wished he had stayed at first base.

Paun gave up seven runs, all of them earned, on six hits, and took the loss. McKittish had three RBIs for PDS, lead-off hitter and centerfielder Jesse Thompson had two of the five hits.

Things were more one-sided against powerful Hamilton; the Hornets scored in every inning for a 13-2 triumph. Paun took the loss allowing five runs on six hits in the four innings he worked. J.P. LaBosco, Brian Avery and Andrew Doss also took turns on the mound, but Hamilton kept scoring.

PDS was held to just four hits, one of them a double by Mark Blatterfein, who drove in one run. Paun got the other RBI, as PDS scored its only two runs in the fourth inning to cut the deficit briefly to two runs, 4-2.

On Saturday, the Panthers broke out of their hitting slump, and pounded out 21 hits en route to a 15-11 victory over Germantown Friends. However, this victory was not secured until the final inning when PDS broke a 10-10 tie with five runs in the top of the seventh.

Thompson had an afternoon to remember, hitting for the cycle, and McKittish chipped in with four hits. Doss was the winning pitcher.

PHS Girls' Lacrosse Opens with 20-4 Win Over Visiting Ridge

Whipping a first-year lacrosse program 20-4 may not be the most glorious way to begin the season, but then again, if you play a first-year team, and you don't whip it, what does that say about you?

PHS girls' lacrosse coach Joyce Jones says that she told her experienced Tiger squad that she expected it to beat Ridge on Friday, she just didn't know by how much. It turned out to be a lot. "We had a good scoring day, and we played well," said Jones.

The Tigers won't be beating everybody by that kind of score this season, but with an experienced attack and a solid-looking defense, the wins may outnumber the losses for the first time in several seasons.

"Our strength is the experience our attacking players bring," said Jones. The offense is led by William and Mary-bound senior Amanda Willard. The team captain, Jones says, "has been working hard on the field and off, and displaying a lot of leadership."

Along with Willard, the Tiger attack boasts seniors Laura Felveson ("our key playmaker," says Jones) and Agata Andrevski.

The defense will be anchored by seniors Jesse Oser and Marie Walsh, with help from a talented crop of juniors including Kim Kaczmarek (whose talent as a shooter will also get her some time on the attack), Shelley Hughes, Sara Walters-Bugbee, Liza Walters, Lea Crusey, Melissa Freedman and Sara Politziner.

Junior Karen Gallager is capable of playing either offense or defense. Transfer student Samantha Surrey is currently a question mark, but could turn out to be a big offensive exclamation point for Princeton later in the season.

Sophomores expected to contribute this season include Swatna Reddy, Ashley Wright, and Auriel Goldblatt.

Princeton is lucky enough to have a pair of talented varsity goalies this season: senior Jana Schaich-Borg and junior Hadley Hempel.

Beating Ridge

The Tigers' opener against Lawrenceville was postponed, so the season began Friday with a visit from Ridge High School. Princeton wasted no time letting the newcomers know what they were in for. The score was 11-0 in Princeton's favor in the first half, and the Tigers brought their total to 20 in the second half.

Willard and Andrevski each scored seven goals for PHS. Felveson scored four, and Hughes and Kaczmarek had one apiece.

Hempel got the start in goal for PHS, and faced only nine shots, making five saves.

According to Jones, it was hard to forecast the rest of the Tigers' season by the win over Ridge. The team "has a little more speed, and our stickwork has improved," she said, but added that she was waiting for a Tuesday afternoon contest against Hunterdon Central to really take the measure of her squad. "The game tomorrow will tell the story," she said Monday.

Princeton does not play again until April 15, when the Tigers play a 4 p.m. away match against Hoewell Valley.

Raider Girls' Lax 2-0 To Open 1998 Season

Coach Mindy Kessler's Hun lacrosse team scored in the double digits in both of its games this week, edging 1-0 Peddie 10-9 before beating a weak Westfield squad 11-4.

Against Peddie, Merrin Kramer pumped in four goals and Marcy Long had three. The game was tied 6-6 at the half, and remained close to the very end as the Raiders pulled it out.

Also scoring for Hun were Whitney Hosea, Meghan Merritt, and Kat Geiger. Courtney Tierney had 12 saves in goal.

Westfield was facing a 7-0 deficit at the half in Monday's game, and the 4-4 score in the second shouldn't be interpreted as a sign that the Raiders were evenly matched. They weren't.

Kramer netted four again, and Nina Tinari scored three. Manuela DeBarros scored two goals, and Long and Merritt each had one. Tierney made 20 saves for Princeton.

The Raiders host Stuart Country Day School on Wednesday at 4 p.m., in a rematch of last year's Prep "B" State Championship, which the Raiders lost to the Tartan.

Recreation Dept to Offer Summer Lacrosse Program

The Princeton Recreation Department will sponsor a men's and women's summer lacrosse program this year, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 5:30. The program is open to anyone in ninth grade or older who has had some sort of organized lacrosse experience.

The men's program will begin on Tuesday, June 23, and run through August 6. It will be held at the Riverside School field on Riverside Drive, off Route 27.

The women's program is scheduled to start on Tuesday, June 30, and to continue through August 13. It will be held behind the John Witherspoon School on the field by the softball backstop.

The registration fee is $25 for residents and $50 for nonresidents. A $10 late registration fee will be charged to those registering after the beginning of the program. For more information, call 921-9480.

Panther Tennis Loses Opener to Germantown

The Princeton Day tennis team fell short in its opening match last week, losing to Germantown Academy, 3-2.

All three losses in the match came in singles play. Bret Carty fell at No. 1, 6-3, 6-2. Kal Vepuri also lost in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1. Sophomore James Utterback playing the first varsity match of his career battled through three sets, before losing 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

Both doubles teams, featuring new combinations, won. Chris Jacoby and Mike French took a 6-4, 7-5 decision. Craig Weissman, recruited for his hockey, proved his ability on the tennis court as well, teaming with Dan Resnick to win 7-6 (7-2), 6-2.

Coming up this week are a pair of matches against nearby rivals. On Wednesday, PDS will face West Windsor-Plainsboro High School and Hun on Thursday.

McCarter Theatre

ADDITION PLANNED: A second stage, as well as other space, will be added to the south side of McCarter Theatre. The project will be undertaken jointly by McCarter and Princeton University. When completed, the new facility will serve as a second stage for McCarter and as the principal performance site for the University's Program in Theater and Dance.

reached and we are now able to move forward on the design, the approval process, and the fund-raising campaign."

These aspects of the project are expected to take 18 months, and construction would take an additional year-and-a-half, he estimated. The addition would be built on the south side of the brick McCarter building, on the grassy lawn that slopes downward toward University Place.

There might be some opportunity for outside artists and groups to use the new theater, but this would be minimal because of the schedule both of McCarter and Princeton University, Mr. Woodward said. He added that there could be openings available in the summer months.

But he noted that the construction of the smaller theater would free some time on the main McCarter stage for outside artists if some of McCarter's plays were moved to the smaller venue. McCarter Theatre, with a capacity of 1,000, is about three times the size of the proposed new theater.

Mr. Woodward said the smaller theater could be used for new plays, and that the length of the run could be doubled from the current three weeks. "Having a longer run would enable word of mouth, which is important for a new play," he said. "Word of mouth doesn't have as much of an impact in a short run. Finding an audience for a new play is something we're interested in."

A More Intimate Setting

New play development is at the heart of McCarter's artistic mission," said Emily Mann, McCarter's artistic director. "A second stage will enable us to expand our program of producing new and neglected voices in the American and international theater, while offering a place for more established playwrights to work in an intimate setting."

Mr. Woodward said that there are few professional theaters of McCarter's size and stature that do not have a second theater. Those comparable institutions with a second stage include the Seattle Repertory Theatre, the Goodman Theatre in Chicago, Manhattan Theatre Club, Long Wharf Theater in New Haven, Lincoln Center Theatre, and South Coast Repertory in Costa Mesa, Calif.

In addition to providing McCarter Theatre with a second stage, the new facility will become both the principal performance venue for Princeton's Program in Theater and Dance and a home to many of its classes.

According to Michael Cadden, director of the Program, "This space will allow us to create theater and dance projects on a larger scale than ever before, and to present those projects to a larger audience. It represents both a major commitment on the University's part to raising the visibility of the performing arts at Princeton, and a remarkable opportunity for us to rise to new standards of excellence in a truly excellent, purpose-built facility."

Mr. Cadden also noted that, by working in close proximity to artists and administrators at one of the country's leading regional theaters, "Program students will have unprecedented opportunities to learn not only by precept but by example."

McCarter Theatre and Princeton Program in Theater and Dance have had a close working relationship in recent years. Emily Mann has taught courses both in playwriting and directing, while Program faculty have been involved — both as playwrights and directors — in the McCarter Lab, which was created for the development of new work.

In addition, South African playwright Athol Fugard, who is at McCarter for the American premiere of his new play, The Captain's Tiger, is co-teaching a course at the University with Prof. Cadden entitled "Drama and Autobiography."

McCarter Theatre is one of the most active performing arts centers in the nation, offering more than 200 performances of theater, dance, music and special events each year. It was built in 1929 to provide a permanent home for Princeton University's Triangle Club, with funds from Princeton alumnus Thomas McCarter Jr.

In 1973, Princeton University transferred its direct operation of the building to the McCarter Theatre Company. A $12 million two-phase renovation and construction project was completed in 1991. This included renovation and improvment of the auditorium, followed by construction of the two glass-walled side lobbies, offices, and dressing room area.

Accounting Firm To Seek Dismissal From $3.3 Million Suit

The attorney for Withum, Smith & Brown (WSB), Overlook Center, the certified public accounting firm named in a $3.3 million complaint filed by the Princeton Regional School District and Board of Education, says the firm should never have been included in the lawsuit.

The district filed suit in Mercer County Superior Court on Monday, March 30, against the district's former auditors, Case, Barlow & Co., which was acquired by Withum, Smith & Brown in December 1997.

The suit charges that during a five-year period, starting in 1990, the auditors failed to advise the school board properly. As a result, the board spent surplus bond funds inappropriately, failed to reduce its bond indebtedness in a timely fashion, and lost more than $600,000 in unnecessary interest payments.

"The school district pulled a press conference on Monday (March 30) to announce the suit, without even telling us," said. "Anyway, from what they have told us, they did inform the district."

"We will hold them [Princeton Regional] accountable for any damage to our reputation," asserted WSB partner Leonard Brown. "When we acquired Case, Barlow, we acquired certain assets. We did not acquire any of their liabilities; and we are confident, in any case, that they fulfilled their responsibilities."

Frank Van Gelder, the main Case, Barlow auditor handling Princeton Regional's accounts, is not associated with WSB, but works for Groendyke Associates in Trenton. He did not return calls to his office.

The school district's general counsel, James Robertson, said that regardless of when the "misappropriation" occurred, WSB can still be held accountable as the successor firm to Case, Barlow & Co.

"I think their denial is absolute public relations posturing," Mr. Robertson added. "Whatever agreement the two firms had between them, it is not of public record. Some side agreement may not be binding on the clients."

Normally, Mr. Robertson added, a defendant in such a suit is allowed a 35-day discovery period, allowing time to assemble arguments. An immediate response is not usually forthcoming.

—Anne Rivera

according to WSB attorney Bernard Berry, of Giordano, Halleran & Ciesla. "It was a very shoddy thing to do; and it smacks of people playing politics."

The focus of the suit is the auditors, Mr. Berry continued. Because WSB was never involved in auditing the regional district, Mr. Berry is moving to have the firm dismissed from the complaint. "WSB did not agree to assume the liabilities of Case, Barlow," he stated.

"When Charles Case and Franklyn Barlow [also named in the complaint] joined WSB, they came after the fact," he

Ellen Stark

HomeFront to Honor Local Volunteer

HomeFront, founded in 1990 as the Exchange Club, will hold its "Building A Better World" awards dinner and dance on April 18, at 7, in the Chauncey Conference Center at Educational Testing Service.

The goal of HomeFront is to end homelessness in Mercer County. Using a small core staff and a large group of volunteers, HomeFront helps clients resolve their immediate needs for shelter, food, and clothing, after which it helps them return to independent living.

Lawrenceville resident Ellen Stark, a volunteer par excellence, will be one of four award recipients at the dinner. Awards for helping make the world a better place will also be presented to Brian Bovasso of UPS; Darryl L. B. Gibson, of Mercer Medical Center; and PSE&G.

An environmental planner by training, Ms. Stark left the field 20 years ago to renovate old houses. Her volunteerism is motivated by a belief that, "As people we are all connected. What happens to one of us, affects all of us." She feels strongly that, "People improve the world by combatting misery and pain."

Ms. Stark began her volunteer work at the Mercer Street Friends Center, a settlement house in Trenton. She got involved with the problems of the inner city, which led her to active involvement as a board member of the Reading and Recreation program, a summer camp program in Pennington for city youth, and with HomeFront.

Ms. Stark serves as a volunteer translator for Hispanic patients at Princeton Hospital; and she is on the advisory board of MECHA (Mercer County Hispanic association) in Princeton.

She is a coordinator of the Global Cinema Cafe, a series of documentaries at Princeton's Third World Center, focusing on peace, justice, human rights, and environmental concerns.

Active in Hermanas, a women's group that provides humanitarian aid to people in Cuba, Ms. Stark provides hands-on support to dozens of social service organizations and human rights groups.

Connie Mercer, executive director of HomeFront, says, "the purpose of the dinner dance is to honor people. . . whose deeds over the years have made our corner of the world a better place."

The other award recipients also exemplify the philosophy that committed citizens can change the world. In the case of PSE&G, HomeFront honors a corporate leadership which provides support and resources to help solve problems faced by the disadvantaged.

For reservations or for further information, call Michelle, at 989-9417. All proceeds from the dinner will go to HomeFront to assist the organization in its work.

Lise Lynam, daughter of Karen and Terry Lynam, Highland Terrace, is a recipient of the Dean's Award for academic excellence during the fall semester at Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y.

A 1996 graduate of Princeton Day School, Ms. Lynam is concentrating in liberal arts at Colgate. She is a member of the class of 2000.

James M. Farrell and John L. Thurman, directors with the law firm, Mason, Griffin & Pierson, Poor Farm Road, will be on the faculty of a National Business Institute Seminar, "Basic Wage and Hour Law in New Jersey" on April 2, at the Holiday Inn, Route 1.

The seminar will include an overview of state and federal laws, overtime issues, exempt employees, ethical considerations, and wage and hour claim litigation strategies.

Mr. Farrell is a member of the New Jersey and New York State Bar Associations. Mr. Thurman, a contributing author to Employment Law Handbook: A Complete Reference for Business, is a member of the New Jersey and Kentucky State Bar Associations. The two attorneys co-chair the firm's Labor & Employment Practice Group.

David Ben-Gal Kramer, president of Fieldstone Hill Group, Plainsboro, has been named communications director of the Princeton-Trenton chapter of the United Nations Association.

He will work with chapter and national leaders to coordinate news and public outreach concerning special area events, programs, advocacy actions, and new member recruitment.

The United Nations Association is a national organization dedicated to strengthening the U.N. system and to enhancing U.S. participation in it.

David Ben-Gal Kramer

For more information about the Princeton-Trenton association, call Fieldstone Hill Group at 275-6600.

Lawrence P. Powers, a partner with the Princeton law firm of Hill Wallack, Attorneys at Law, has been re-appointed attorney to the Hopewell Borough Planning Board.

Mr. Powers is a member of both the firm's litigation division and its construction industry practice group. His principal area of practice is in construction litigation and the representation of design professionals.

An experienced trial attorney, Mr. Powers has represented numerous applicants before planning boards and boards of adjustment.

A graduate of Villanova University, Mr. Powers received his law degree from Seton Hall University School of Law.

Princeton Theological Seminary has announced the appointment of Nancy Oliver Gray as vice president for seminary relations, effective July 1. Ms. Gray, presently the vice president of development and university relations at Rider University, will succeed Fred W. Cassell, who will retire in June.

She is a graduate of Vanderbilt University (B.A.) and North Texas State University (M.Ed.) Before taking the position at Rider in 1991, she was director of capital programs and campaign planning for The Lawrenceville School. Prior to that she was the senior development officer and director of major gifts at Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio.

She also worked in development at the University of Louisville and at Vanderbilt.

As vice president for seminary relations, Ms. Gray will oversee development, communications, media, and alumni/ae relations. "My goal is to enhance gift resources and foster attitudes to and perceptions of the Seminary that will help it prepare the church's future leadership," she said.

Princeton resident Kelly Ann Babbitt, a student at George Peabody College of Education, Vanderbilt University, has been named to the Dean's List, with highest honors, for the fall 1997 semester. Ms. Babbitt is the daughter of Pamela Z. Babbitt, Fair Acres Court.

Princeton resident Paul Levinsohn has become associated with the Woodbridge law firm of Wilentz, Goldman & Spitzer.

Mr. Levinsohn concentrates his practice primarily on public utility and administrative law. A former campaign coordinator for Jim McGreevey, he is also a former law clerk for the Honorable Anne E. Thompson, chief judge, U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey.

Mr. Levinsohn also serves as counsel/treasurer for the newly-formed federal political action committee, the Committee for Working Families.

He received his J.D. degree from Duke University School of Law in 1995. His M.A. degree is from Duke's School of Graduate Studies; and his B.A. is from Duke University, as well.

Anu Rao will become Princeton University's ombuds officer, effective July 1. Currently an assistant professor at the Graduate School of Social Work at Bryn Mawr, Dr. Rao will devote two days a week to Princeton's Ombuds Office as she completes her academic appointment this semester.

Dr. Rao served as interim ombuds officer at Princeton from June through December 1997. She had served as director of training and organizational development at Princeton from 1988 to 1992.

"We received excellent feedback about Anu Rao's service as interim ombuds officer," said Associate Provost Joann Mitchell, who, with Associate Provost S. Georgia Nugent, led the search committee. "Her deep knowledge of the campus community and her sensitivity to the issues she encountered here made her an exceptionally strong candidate for the permanent appointment. We are pleased that she will return to the University."

The ombuds officer works to assure that the campus climate is fair and equitable for students, faculty, staff, and visitors. She oversees the dispute resolution process for administrative and support staff. She monitors the University's racial and ethnic harassment guidelines and coordinates a network of advisors who provide information and referrals to campus resources to address questions regarding harassment. She advises faculty, staff and students about mediation and conflict resolution.

Ms. Rao holds a bachelor's of science degree and a master's in social work from Bangalore University in India, as well as a second master's in social work and a doctorate in city and regional planning from the University of Pennsylvania. Before coming to Princeton in 1988, she held joint appointments as director of social services at the University of Pennsylvania's School of Dental Medicine and as director of child welfare at Penn's School of Social Work.

Princeton veterinarian Nancy Halpern is the new president-elect of the New Jersey Veterinary Medical Association.

The election of Dr. Halpern, a graduate of the Purdue University School of Veterinary Medicine, was announced at the association's 114th annual meeting in Long Branch on March 7.

Kellie Comeau

Air Force Airman Kellie A. Comeau graduated recently from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. Ms. Comeau is the daughter of Wayne and Kim A. Comean, Model Avenue, Hopewell.

Manli Huang, daughter of Wenlin Huang, Linden Lane, has joined the U.S. Army under the delayed entry program at the U.S. Army Recruiting Station in Trenton. A senior at Princeton High School, Ms. Huang will report to Fort Jackson, Columbia, S.C., for basic training, on July 8 of this year.

for developing this site in the 1999 capital budgets of both the Borough and Township. "We are looking at the cost of this to see if it would exceed what is in the bond budget," she said.

As the new proposal was being developed over the past few months, Planning Board members looked at different sites for a baseball field and met with members of Township Committee.

"There seemed to be a strong interest in having a regulation baseball field," said Ms. Kyle. "We weren't sure Weller was the right place to put it. We felt that, if we could, we should tie down an alternative site."

She does not see lighting as part of the proposed Community Park baseball field, but said that lights from the nearby tennis courts might allow slightly longer play. As currently considered, third base would be near the Community Park South portion of the Mountain Avenue jughandle on Route 206, with first base in the direction of Birch Avenue.

The baseball field proposed for Weller Farm was to be used for Babe Ruth and American Legion games as well as Little League play. Presumably, any other new field would have the same purposes.

The proposed new plan also moves the site of the parking lot closer to the Snowden Lane entrance. The same number of spots — 50 laid out and 50 for overflow — remain.

Weller Park is bounded by Snowden Lane, Herrontown Road, and Caldwell Drive. Development of the Weller Farm will be done through a gift of $1 million from Olden Lane resident Stanley Smoyer in memory of his late wife, Barbara Smoyer.

The farm was purchased by Princeton Township for $1.8 million from the estate of Jac Weller. Of this amount, $375,000 will come from a Greenacres grant and $480,000 from a contribution by Princeton Borough.

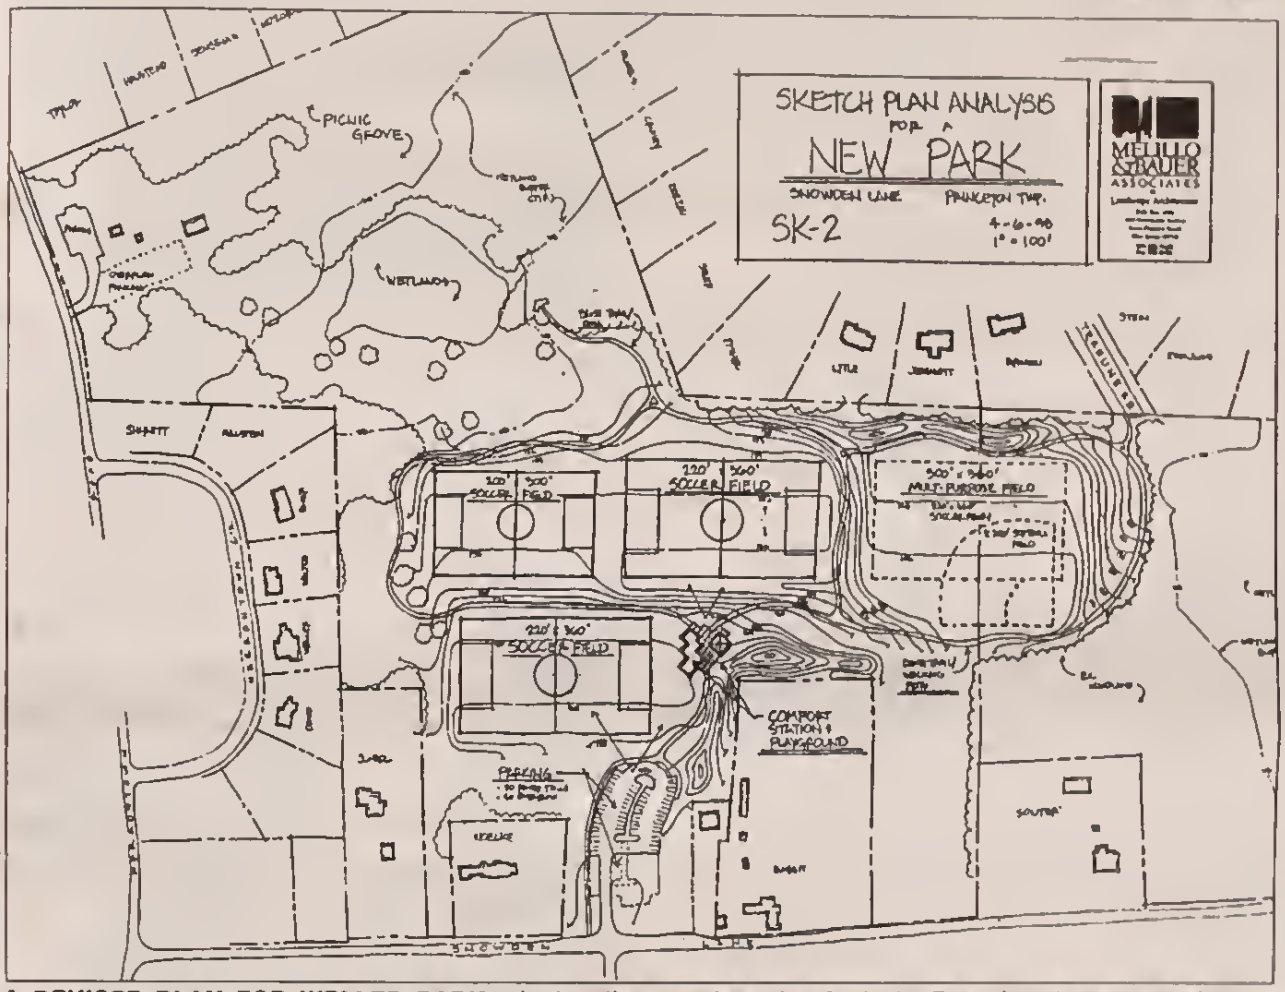
In 1996, Herrontown Road resident Sidney Souter and the Northeast Residents Association filed separate lawsuits in an attempt to prevent the development of the Weller Farm for active recreation.

The association lawsuit was settled when an agreement was reached allowing five residents from the surrounding neighborhood to sit on the project's advisory steering committee. Mr. Souter was also given a seat on the committee when his suit was settled.

It was a minority report of the advisory steering committee which urged the removal of the proposed baseball diamond and its replacement with a soccer field with a baseball overlay.

Signing the minority report were T. Burnet Fisher, Nathan Selberg, Michael David, Lynda Halsted, Dennis Lytle, and Sydney Souter.

—Myrna K. Bearse



A REVISED PLAN FOR WELLER PARK will be discussed at the April 16 Planning Board meeting. It shows three soccer fields and one all-purpose field, and moves the parking area closer to the entrance from Snowden Lane.

"WHAT DOES CHURCH HAVE TO OFFER ME?"

Well, would you like a fresh understanding of God, and of yourself, and of your place in His creation?

"Sure, but how is that going to help me?"

It gives you a sense of direction and purpose. And as your knowledge of God grows, this becomes the basis of everything you do.

We'd love to have you share in a Christian Science service with us this Sunday.

Services Are Listed By Area Churches For Holy Week, Easter

Area churches have scheduled many special services for Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, and Easter Sunday.

St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, 214 Nassau Street, will hold a Mass of the Lord's Supper at 8 p.m. on Holy Thursday. On Good Friday, there will be 3 p.m. Memorial of the Lord's Passion and, at 7:30, Stations of the Cross.

At 8 p.m. on Holy Saturday, St. Paul's will offer an Easter Vigil and Mass of the Resurrection. Masses on Easter Sunday follow the regular schedule: 7, 8:30, 10, 11:30 a.m., 5 p.m., Mass in Korean at 3, and Mass in Spanish at 6.

RELIGION

On Maundy Thursday, Trinity Church 33 Mercer Street, will offer Morning Prayer at 7:30, Holy Eucharist at 12:10, Evening Prayer at 5:30, and, at 8 p.m. The Institution of the Lord's Supper with music and choir.

Trinity's Good Friday schedule includes Good Friday Liturgy at 7:30 am., The Seven Last Words of Christ with music and choir from noon to 3, a children's service at 5, and Good Friday Liturgy at 5:30.

The Holy Saturday office will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the Great Vigil of Easter with music and choir at 8 p.m. On Easter, Holy Eucharist will be at 7:30 a.m.. At 9 and 11:15 a.m. here will be Festival Eucharist, with special music.

The Rev. John E. White will preach on "Re-membering," and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated Thursday at Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church, 124 Witherspoon Street.

There will be a Tenebrae Service on Good Friday, with focus on "The Last Words of Jesus on the Cross." Easter services will be held at 7 a.m. and 10 a.m.

Princeton United Methodist Church, 7 Vandeventer Avenue, will hold an 8 p.m. Holy Communion Service on Thursday. On Good Friday, there will be a Service of the Cross, with the Rev. Gary Morris speaking on "By His Stripes We Are Healed." Easter Sunday services will be 9:30 and 11.

The Maundy Thursday Service at All Saints' Episcopal Church, 16 All Saints' Road, at 8 p.m., will be marked by the symbolic ritual of Washing of Feet. Good Friday Service will be at 8 p.m., and the First Easter Eucharist will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. An Easter Feast will follow.

Festival Eucharist services will be held Easter Sunday at 9 and 11:15 a.m. An Easter Egg hunt will be held on the church grounds between the services in lieu of Sunday School.

At Lutheran Church of the Messiah, 407 Nassau Street, Maundy Thursday Communion will take place at 8 p.m.

NEW ORTHODOX CHURCH, in the former St. James church on Princeton Avenue in Rocky Hill, was formed by a group of Princeton and other area residents.

A Good Friday service will be held from noon to 3 at Princeton University Chapel. There will be a Tenebrae Service at the church at 8 p.m.

An Easter Sunrise Eucharist will be held 6:30 a.m., and Easter Eucharist at 10:30 a.m.

Nassau Presbyterian Church, 61 Nassau Street, will hold a Tenebrae Service at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday. Good Friday worship service will begin at noon.

Worship services will be held at 9:15 and 11 a.m. Easter Sunday, with the Rev. Dr. Clarence B. Ammons preaching.

Princeton University Chapel will offer a Service of Holy Communion at 9 p.m. on Maundy Thursday. On Good Friday, the Chapel has scheduled The Seven Last Words from noon to 3 and a Tenebrae Service at 8 p.m.

A Service of Holy Communion will be held 8 a.m. on Easter. At the 11 a.m. Easter Festival Service, the Chapel Choir will sing "Erfreut euch, ihr Herzen," by J.S. Bach; Violinist Mineko Yajima will play "Spring Concerto,: from The Four Seasons, by Vivaldi; and Peter Velikonja will play Vivaldi's "Oboe Concerto in F."

Orthodox Church, Mother of God, Begun in Area

On March 8, Mother of God Orthodox Church, Joy of All Who Sorrow, held its first Divine Liturgy in Rocky Hill. Father Paul Kucynda, Director of Missions for the Orthodox Church in America (O.C.A.), served the first Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom in the mission station, recently approved by Archbishop Peter of the Diocese of New York and New Jersey.

Mother of God Church is named for the widely venerated icon of the Theotokos, or Birthgiver of God, who is honored as the champion of all bereft and suffering humanity. The mission community has dedicated itself to serving those in need and to reaching out to persons who are searching for spiritual community in continuity with the unbroken liturgical tradition of the ancient Church.

The new mission is located in the former St. James Church on Princeton Avenue in Rocky Hill. This site is being leased from the local Roman Catholic Diocese.

As lay coordinator, Albert J. Raboteau, Henry W. Putnam Professor of Religion at Princeton University, led the effort to establish an Orthodox Mission in the Princeton area. A former Roman Catholic, Professor Raboteau converted to Orthodoxy in 1993 and became a member of Sts. Peter and Paul Orthodox Church in Manville.

Recognizing the need for an Orthodox parish to serve the greater Princeton region, he and a group of other interested Orthodox lay persons approached the Diocese of New York and New Jersey with the request to establish a mission station, the first step in evolving a church with full parish status.

Among those who helped Professor Raboteau establish the new mission station were Margery Cuyler, Julia Demaree-Raboteau, Marina Kogan, Tatiana Koly, and Jan Perkins, all of Princeton; Jackie and Nick DeLarato, Evan and Edna Kalenik, and Kristina Rydzaj of Belle Meade; and Alice Kalina of Hightstown.

Services will be held weekly at 9:30 a.m. Sunday mornings preceded by Vespers at 6 p.m. Saturday evenings. A visiting priest will celebrate the Liturgy on alternate Sundays until a resident priest is available. All services will be sung in English.

For further information call 924-7244.

In Memory of

Paul Robeson

On this, the 100th anniversary of the birth of Paul Robeson, we, the undersigned affirm our dedication to the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights, adopted 50 years ago, in December, 1948.

Paul Robeson, born in Princeton April 9, 1898, was a life-long advocate of the values expressed in the Declaration of Human Rights, in particular those proclaiming the inherent dignity of all members of the human family and condemning any distinctions based on race, color, sex, political opinion, religion or economic status.

In memory of Paul Robeson — artist, humanitarian, champion of the working people — we hereby rededicate ourselves to work actively in our time and in our community to further the values that he exemplified and that serve as the foundation for the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

OBITUARIES

Stephen C. Johnes, of Princeton, died March 29 at home of Lou Gehrig's Disease (ALS).

Mr. Johnes grew up in New Jersey, Texas, Missouri, Arkansas and Ohio. After graduating from the Loomis School and Cornell University, and serving in the U.S. Marine Corps, he held a series of positions in the financial field.

He was an executive with White, Weld & Co. in New York, and later managed the State of New Jersey Pension Fund and became a vice president at Trust Company of the West in Los Angeles. He joined Merrill Lynch in 1987, where he started The Growth Fund, which grew to $8.5 billion in assets.

He was a member of The California Club and The Bel Air Bay Club of Los Angeles, and The Brook Club of New York.

Son of the late Alfred and Elizabeth Johnes of Summit, he is survived by two daughters, Stephanie, studying art history in London, and Alexandra, an actress and student at New York University; their mother, Carolyn MacKenzie of New York; a brother, Carl of New York; a goddaughter, Maude Duke; and a beloved friend, Anne de Selys of Brussels.

A Memorial Service will be held at Miller Chapel, Princeton Theological Seminary, on Saturday, April 18, at 11 a.m.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the ALS Association, Greater Philadelphia Chapter, 980 Harvest Drive, Suite 105, Blue Bell, Pa. 19422.

Ario Pardee Rodgers, 54, died April 2 in Rockville, Maryland following a long struggle with cancer.

Son of Christopher R. P. Rodgers and the late Mary Pardee Rodgers, he was a longtime Princeton resident. In addition to his father, he is survived by ten siblings: Mary Liz Alexander, Perry Rodgers, Emily Rogers, Jim Rodgers, Sam Rodgers, Sally Smith, Alice Celestino, Virginia Rodgers, John Rodgers, and Julie Alpert.

A private burial will be held at All Saints Cemetery on April 9.

Memorial contributions may be sent to Chestnut Lodge Hospital, 500 West Montgomery Ave., Rockville, MD 20850.

Ann Geherty, 72, of Princeton, died March 29 in Cape Coral (Fla.) Hospital. She was a lifelong Princeton resident.

She retired in 1992 after 14 years as a special needs bus driver for the Princeton Regional Board of Education. She was a member of the Mercer County Mothers of Twins.

She is survived by her husband, Thomas E. Geherty Jr.; four sons, Thomas III of Kingston; Richard and Theodore, both of Hopewell, and Todd of Ewing; a daughter, Barbara Mulder of North Brunswick; a sister, Gertrude DeSantis of Bordentown; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday at Mather-Hodge Funeral Home. Dr. Clarence Ammons, interim pastor of Nassau Presbyterian Church, officiated. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to Temple University Children's Medical Center, c/o John Walker, Office of Development, Suite 300, 3340 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19140; or The Medical Center at Princeton, Ann Geherty Foundation, 253 Witherspoon Street, Princeton 08540.

Stephen C. Johnes

Neal S. Coleman, 46, died March 30 at Princeton Medical Center. He lived in Plainsboro for many years before moving to Dayton three years ago.

He was a warehouseman with Sprint's North Supply Distribution Center in Dayton.

He graduated from Hillsborough High School in Nashville, Tenn. He attended the University of Tennessee and Bucks County Community College.

Son of the late Richard J. Coleman, he is survived by his mother, Mary Ellen Coleman of Yardley, his wife, Karen Roberta Holsten-Coleman; a daughter, Laura Ann Coleman of Dayton; and three brothers, Mark of Overland Park, Kan.; Richard L. of Yardley, and James Bradley of Princeton.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Diabetes Association, 15 Roszel Road, Princeton 08540; or the Crippled Children's Fund, Princeton BPOE, Blawenburg 08504.

Michael A. Tamasi Sr., 89, of Princeton, died April 1 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Pettoranello, Italy, Mr. Tamasi came to the United States in 1926. He lived in Lambertville before moving to Princeton in 1928.

He retired in 1974 as a foreman after 45 years with the Department of Grounds and Buildings at Princeton University.

He was a member of Roma Eterna and a former member of the Italian American Sportsmen's Club and St. Paul Golden Agers.

Husband of the late Anna Tamasi, he is survived by his wife, Lucia DiFalco Tamasi; two sons, Constantino "Andy" of Princeton and Michael A. Jr. of Lawrenceville; a daughter, Angelina Tedeschi of Lawrenceville; two sisters, Filomena Tamasi and Ernestina Tamasi, both of Pettoranello, Italy; nine grandchildren; and seven great- grandchildren.

The funeral was held Saturday at Mather-Hodge Funeral Home. Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Paul's Church.

Entombment was in Franklin Memorial Park Mausoleum, North Brunswick.

REAL ESTATE Notes

Local Realtor Receives High Rating from State

For its management services to Princeton Community Village, K.M. Light Real Estate has received a rating of "Excellent" by the New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency. The is a rating rarely awarded by the Agency.

The services included building and grounds management, accounting, certification of residents, maintaining waiting lists and the records necessary to document compliance with the regulations of the various agencies involved in a subsidized housing development.

In addition to Princeton Community Village, K.M. Light Real Estate is under contract with Princeton Community Housing, Inc. to manage their 88 units at Elm Court for senior and handicapped residents and 70 low-income affordable units at Griggs Farm, a total of 396 units of rental housing in the three developments.

Ed Taylor Ruth Ulberall

Two sales associates with Weichert Realtors Princeton office — Ed Taylor and Ruth Ulberall — have been recognized for outstanding performance in January.

Mr. Taylor was recognized as the office's top producer for listing the most homes in January. A longtime resident of Pennington, Mr. Taylor specializes in Mercer and Hunterdon Counties. He is a member of the Mercer, Somerset, and Hunterdon County Boards of Realtors.

Mr. Taylor holds a B.S. degree in business administration from the College of New Jersey. Prior to joining Weichert, he was a customer relations coordinator with PSE&G.

Ms. Ulberall was recognized as the office's top producer for securing the most sold listings in January. An experienced real estate salesperson and licensed broker, Ms. Ulberall has been listing and selling homes for 12 years.

She is a member of the New Jersey Association of Realtors Distinguished Sales Club, an honor bestowed only on those who have qualified for the New Jersey State Million Dollar Club for at least 10 years. Ms. Ulberall has earned a place in the club for the past 11 years.

Ms. Ulberall is also a member of Weichert's 1997 President's Club. She was named the office's 1996 top listings producer; and in 1997, she earned three office top production awards.

Both Mr. Taylor and Ms. Ulberall can be reached at 921-1900. The office is located at 350 Nassau Street.

Betsy McGuire Sandy Jones

Two sales associates from the Princeton office of Coldwell Banker — Sandy Jones and Betsy McGuire — have won the Distinguished Sales Award from the NJ Association of Realtors. The award is given to those who have earned entrance into the NJAR Million Dollar Club for at least ten years.

Both women can be reached at 921-1411. The Coldwell Banker office is at 10 Nassau Street.

Deborah Lake Dorothy Brodka

Two Burgdorff sales associates from the Princeton office — Deborah B. Lake and Dorothy Brodka — were honored for their seles performance in February.

Ms. Lake was honored as the top listing agent with the firm for February; while Ms. Brodke was the leading sales agent for that month.

Ms. Lake received her license in 1985. She was nemed to the New Jersey Association of Realtors' Million Dollar Sales Club in 1988, and every yeer from 1992 to 1997.

Ms. Brodka was named to both the New Jersey Associetion of Realtors Million Dollar Sales Club and the Leaders Circle for 1997. She qualified for membership in the 1997 Mercer County Top Producers Club. Her production places her in the top two percent of more than 2,000 sales agents in Mercer County.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

By Tod Peyton

BUGS!

There is probably some kind of small, leggy creature that makes its home with you. Whether they are termites, fleas, roaches, ants, or spiders, it is a good idea to serve them with an eviction notice before you put your home on the market. If home remedies like ionized boric acid don't work, paying a professional exterminator will be money well spent.

Most standard sales agreements require that a property be inspected before the closing and treated for termite infestation, if necessary. It is a good idea to check for insect problems as soon as you sign a listing agreement, so that they don't become an issue of contention in the sale. Some insects may not physically damage the house, but may reduce its chances of selling for top dollar. If the buyer has to push back spider webs while touring the house or sees an ant trail, it could seriously undermine a prospective buyer's ability to fully appreciate your house.

For dependable, individual advice on buying or selling real estate, call Tod Peyton, Realtor or any Peyton Associate at 921-1550. Feel free to stop by my office at 343 Nassau Street in Princeton.

On the crown of five gently sloping acres in the Sourland Mountains, the porches of this handsomely constructed custom-built house look through a grove of tall slender trees to the country road below. A welcoming double door introduces the center hall with French doors on either side, and a broad staircase. A gracious living room with brick fireplace opens to the formal dining room with chair-rail, French doors to the kitchen, and sliding glass door to the side porch with fireplace grill. The comfortable family room, with fireplace, opens to a well-arranged kitchen with breakfast bar, delightful greenhouse window, and eat-in area with doors leading to an attractive deck overlooking lawn and woods. Nearby, a bedroom, bath, and laundry. On the second floor, the pleasant master bedroom with fireplace and doors opening to the upper porch, the master bath with soaking tub, three additional bedrooms - one with fireplace also opens to the porch - and a hall bath. Here also, an expansive room offers possibilities as office, study, exercise, playroom. The lower level, fully carpeted, has an accommodating bar with brass rails, a sink area, and opens to a small patio and fenced garden area. In Hillsborough Township. $829,000

ADJOINING WOODFIELD

DAFFODILS AND FLOWERING TREES ABOUND on almost five acres of country property on the western side of Princeton Township. Ideally located on a quiet country road and backing up to the Woodfield Reservation with its woods and trails, this intriguing contemporary house is wrapped around an 1896 original core house, preserving the character of the original design while incorporating modern sensibility in one most inviting package. The gently sloping lawn leads to an inviting and secluded swimming pool.

There are soaring ceilings as well as lower beamed ceilings, old fireplace, new fireplace, formal and informal living areas, 5 bedrooms, 4½ baths and much more. Reminiscent of yesterday but modern as tomorrow, it is offered at $825,000

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

A Delightful Balance

A circular drive and its luxuriant island of specimen trees and shrubs, and a timbered stucco and brick facade proclaim the balance of the formal and the informal beyond the front door of this striking Tudor. A ceramic tile foyer opens to the step-down living room with cathedral ceiling; the floor to ceiling brick wall with fireplace and tall windows add drama to this handsome room. A formal dining room has a lustrous marble floor and bay window. The spacious family room adapts itself to the seasons with a fireplace and conventional ceiling serving one end while the other end is enhanced by a cathedral ceiling, walls of windows and sliding glass door to a deck and brick patio. The all-white well-arranged kitchen has an eat-in area, recessed lights and door to the deck. Nearby, a fully tiled powder room and laundry/mudroom. Upstairs, the pleasant master bedroom with tray ceiling, sitting room with built-in dressing table and master bath, and three bedrooms and a hall bath. A charming hallway balcony overlooks the living room. Tall abundant evergreens border the edges of this corner lot location affording privacy and seclusion. In Montgomery Township. $425,000

The charming lake serving as background for this handsome Traditional is a superlative surprise. A delightful certainty, beyond the welcoming front door, is a gracious home with rooms positioned to view the lake. The foyer, with chair-rail, coat room and powder room, introduces the living room with crown molding, built-in bookshelves and fireplace with Adams-style mantel and marble surround; sliding glass doors open to a flagstone terrace, with low brick wall, overlooking the lawn fanning out to meet the intimate crescent-shaped lake. The dining room has chair-rail, crown molding and pretty bay window. A paneled family room with fireplace has its own lake view through sliding glass doors to the terrace. The kitchen, with cherry cabinetry and eat-in area opens to a covered portion of the patio. Also on this level, the master bedroom and bath and two bedrooms and hall bath. Upstairs, two bedrooms and a bath, and storage areas. This unique property is comprised of the house on 1.5 acres, and 8+ acres of riparian rights. In Hopewell Township's Elm Ridge Park. $695,000

Six splendid Ionic columns gracing the crescent of steps at the formal entrance of this elegant brick home announce the finesse of its interior finishes - lofty ceilings, deep rich crown molding and chair-rail, delicate hand-carved fireplace mantels, and lustrous hardwood floors. The vestibule, with marble floor, opens to the center hall with handsome defining arch. The gracious living room has a fireplace and bowed window; the library, with fireplace, has French doors to a solarium with door leading to an intimate patio. The dining room, with fireplace and bowed windowed wall also opens to the solarium. A spacious butler's pantry, with Portuguese ceramic tile and glossy cherry cabinetry introduces a grand gourmet kitchen with richly painted ceramic tiles and eat-in area. Nearby, the laundry/mud room, powder room, and back hall with back stairs. On the second floor, the hall is filled with light from a magnificent leaded glass Palladian window at the landing of the broad staircase. Here, a master bedroom with glamorous bath and French doors to a sun room, three bedrooms - each with bath - and a sitting room. On the third floor, four bedrooms and a hall bath. In Princeton's distinguished western section.

THIS IS HOW A DREAM HOUSE REALLY APPEARS!

It's being built right now on Lafayette Road in Princeton's coveted western section. It's new! It's traditional! It will have the charm and character of old!

How can this be?

Because the extremely talented owners have done a masterful job before in this neighborhood with a renovation that was so very special... it was written about in "Met Home" Nov/Dec 1997 edition.

This new dream home, being built by Dave Rowe, will be constructed of brick with cedar shake roof and traditional Marvin windows. Interior spaces will be finished with raised panel wainscotting and custom mahogany cabinets in the to-die-for kitchen and comfortable library.

To add to the charm, there will be four fireplaces, hardwood floorings, and ten-foot ceilings... all so reminiscent of another time, another place... all on a quiet almost-acre... walkable to everything!

Why not call Jones Toland at 921-9300 to put your personal touch on it and move into a house you never dreamed would be possible? Someone else has done all the hard work for you!

It will really be a dream come true!
